YANK FORCE STRENGTHENED

Mideast Hold Tightens

. . . Strongly Backstopped U.S. Marines Spread Out In Beirut

Beirut, Lebanon (AP) —A big airlift sped crack American troops toward the Middle East Wednesday night. The drone of great thansports underscored the United States decision to press ahead in the atmosphere of deepening world crisis.

Soldiers were pulled out of NATO bases in Germany and flown south to backstop a swelling force of U.S. Marine on the hot Mideastern scene.

The operation was denounced by President Nasser of the United Arab Republic as "a flagrant threat to the Arab states."

The airbornes' exact destination was secret.

The Marines doubled their manpower in revolt-ravaged Lebanon and moved from their beachhead into Beirut and its port area.

Contingents totaling 3,600 were ashore in Lebanon. Another force—completing the 5,400 Marines assigned to protect President Camille Chamoun's pro-western government and American civilians in Lebanon — stood by in coastal waters.

Flurry Of Reaction

The troop movements were launched amid a flurry in world capitals highlighted by these developments:

1. Soviet Russia urged that the United States withdraw the Marines and declared it reserves the right to act "to halt a dangerous situation near our border."

2. President Nasser warned in a statement broadcast by Radio Cairo that any aggression against the new Iraq republic, set up Monday by pro-Nasser rebels, would be considered aggression against the U. A. R. of Egypt and Syria.

3. The United States held firm in the U. N. Security Council against mounting pressure, led by the Soviet Union, for withdrawal of the marines. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and neutral nations appeared cool toward a U. S. request for an international military force to supplant the Marines.

Macmillan Speaks

4. Prime Minister Macmillan told Britain's House of Commons the crisis holds grave danger for the world.

5. President Eisenhower dispatched troubleshooter Robert Murphy, deputy undersecretary of state, by jet plane to Beirut to help American Military and diplomatic representatives there end the civil war in co-operation with President Chamoun.

6. But leader Saeb Salam was quoted by Radio Damascus as saying he would fight to the end to drive out the marines, seeking aid "from any source."

7. Jordan's young King Hussein, who has proclaimed himself new chief of state of the Iraq-Jordan union, appealed in a broadcast to the Iraqi people and Army "to kill mutiny in its cradle and to purify Iraq of traitors."

Huge Realignment

The airlift from Germany was part of a massive realignment of American military power brought on by the 68-day revolt in Lebanon and the sudden, deadly revolt Monday that unseated the pro-Western government of Iraq.

After hours of secrecy, the U. S. Army announced the first airborne battle group of the 24th Division—totaling perhaps 1,600 officers and men—was flying from West Germany to the Middle East.

But reports from Italy and Austria indicated a much bigger movement was under way.

In Washington, White House Secretary James C. Hagerty denied his country was sending troops to Turkey itself. He intimated they might be landed in Turkey en route to ultimate Middle East assignments.

Recurrent Rumors

There have been recurrent reports that Jordan would follow Lebanon's example and ask for American—and British — military support. Asked about this, Hagerty said: "I know of no plans to send troops to Jordan."

King Hussein's little kingdom, with an Army British-trained and British-equipped, would be more likely initially to look to Britain. Britain is an old ally with whom Jordan cancelled a treaty of defense during an upsurge of Arab nationalism last year.

Cushman Awarded $1.4 Million Order

Government Buys 1,778 Vehicles For Post Office Delivery Use

A contract valued at close to a million and a half dollars has been awarded to Lincoln's Cushman Motor Works, Inc., by the General Services Administration.

The government contract calls for Cushman to furnish 1,778 3-wheel mail delivery vehicles for use by the Post Office Department.

In announcing the awarding of the contract by the GSA, Robert H. Ammon, Cushman president, said the $1,407,287 contract would enable the company to avoid its usual seasonal work reduction.

Present employment of about 800 will continue during the winter months, according to Ammon. It is estimated that $350,000 of the amount of the contract will be paid out in wages to Cushman employes.

Within 60 Days

Delivery schedules for the vehicles call for production and acceptance of a pilot model by Post Office engineers within 60 days; delivery of production vehicles to start within 30 days after acceptance of the pilot model at the rate of 20 per working day until the order is filled.

According to the bids solicited by the GSA, the vehicles produced by Cushman are destined for use in cities west of the Mississippi River. The per unit price bid by the motor works was listed at $791.50 F.O.B. Lincoln.

This contract represents the third order for similar mail delivery vehicles Cushman has received from the federal government.

In 1954 the motor works filled a contract calling for 300 vehicles at a cost of about $840 each. Nearly all of those machines went to Florida.

Cushman produced 1,500 mail delivery vehicles in 1957, which cost the government $935 per unit. Two-thirds of the 1957 order were put in use in southern states with the other third being tested for cold weather use in northern states.

Ammon noted that in addition to the mail delivery vehicles the company produces 2-wheel scooters, 3-wheel trucksters and electric golf carts.

Improvements in the 3-wheel machine, which is similar in appearance to the mail pickup vehicle that has operated in downtown Lincoln since 1954, include electric starting, electric wipers, turn signals, added power, larger fuel capacity and better riding qualities.

Eastern Contract

A contract for some 1,622 mail delivery vehicles for use east of the Mississippi has been awarded to the Eshelman Motors Corp., of Baltimore, Md., according to A. C. McKinney Jr., purchasing agent for the GSA office in Washington, D.C.

The per unit bid by the Eshelman company was estimated at $777 by McKinney.

Bids on both contracts were entered by Cushman, Ammon said.

KEESHAN PLEADS INSANITY

Albion Teen Shooting

Albion, Neb. (AP) — Kermit Keeshan, 17, who was charged with murder in a teen-age triangle shooting, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity Wednesday.

Young Keeshan is charged with first degree murder in the death of Diane Zaruba last May 21. Also fatally shot was Jerry Sherwood, 18. Keeshan was seriously wounded when he turned a .22 caliber rifle on himself.

The Albion youth has been held in Robert Young Memorial Hospital in Omaha under guard. He is scheduled for further surgery next week to repair damage to his jaw incurred in the shooting.

The youth appeared Wednesday before County Judge W J. Donahue who set trial for the Oct. 14 term of court. Keeshan waived preliminary hearing.

He was represented by Attorneys William Lamme and Charles H. Yost of Fremont.

He was returned to the hospital following the hearing.

Keeshan is the son of former Albion mayor William Keeshan.

The shooting climaxed troubles between the youth and Sherwood over the affections of Diane.

Young Sherwood was killed at the rooming house where Dianne lived while attending school in Albion. Diane was shot as she huddled in the doorway of the Frank Svoboda home in Albion.

Temperatures will remain mild, peaking in the upper 70s and lower 80s.

Omaha's 78-degree high topped state temperatures Wednesday. Lincoln reported 74.

Precipitation: Chadron, .20 inch; Hayes Center, .70; Imperial, .42; North Platte, .54; Scottsbluff, .44; Sidney, .55; Superior, .11.

The 5-day forecast calls for precipitation of about one inch over the state.

ALL U.S. FORCES POISED

Washington (AP) — An airborne battle group of about 1,600 men landed in Turkey Wednesday. Officials said they might be used to reinforce the 5,400 U.S. Marines in Lebanon.

All of the armed services were thus poised for possible quick action.

The pentagon said, however, there is no plan for the Marines already in Lebanon to take any offensive action.

U.S. military transport planes carrying men of the first battle group of the 187th Infantry, 24th Division landed at the big NATO air base near Adana in southern Turkey. A tight security ring was thrown around the base.

Officials in Washington said the Adana base would serve as a staging area rather than a final destination for the troopers flown there from their bases in Germany.

Holloway

The Army, in announcing earlier that the group was on its way to the Middle East, said the advanced elements had already been placed under operational control of Adm. James L. Holloway, U.S. commander in chief in the Middle East.

The eventual destination of the troopers was not immediately disclosed. Informed officials said that the Army troopers might be held in Turkey temporarily while Adm. Holloway determines whether they will be needed to reinforce the Marines already in Lebanon.

The 24th Division has a Second Airborne Battle Group which is understood to have been alerted to follow the first group.

Gap Left

In order to plug the gap left by the departure of the force from Germany, the army was also known to be readying plans for possible trans-Atlantic movement of at least an equivalent number of airborne troops from the 101st Airborne Division or the 82nd Airborne Division in the United States. This decision will await further developments.

Informed officials said the Marines in Lebanon might be reinforced Thursday by United States soldiers. They indicated the battle group in Turkey might be shifted to Lebanon during the day.

Russ Miffed Over U.S. Act

. . . Urge Marines Be Pulled Out

Moscow (AP)—The Kremlin Wednesday night urged the United States to pull its Marines out of Lebanon. It declared Russia reserves the right to act "to halt a dangerous situation near our border."

The Soviet government's views were given at a Foreign Ministry news conference. Going on at the same time was a conference between Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Adlai Stevenson.

The 2-time presidential candidate said later he told Gromyko that the American people would give their emphatic support o the landing of U.S. Marines in Beirut as a measure to preserve peace.

The Soviet statement urged that the United States halt "armed aggression" in the Middle East and said the landings were an act "not only against Lebanon but against other peace-loving nations of the Middle East."

Just before the news conference, U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. was summoned to the Foreign Ministry and handed a copy of the statement.

In addition to demanding a U.S. withdrawal from Lebanon, the statement called on the U.N. Security Council for prompt action to end the "aggressive action of the imperialists."

No Threat

While it bristled with condemnations of the United States, the note made no threat of active Soviet retaliation beyond saying:

"The Soviet Union states that its government cannot remain indifferent to the events creating serious danger in this region adjacent to her border and reserves the right to take necessary measures to preserve peace and security."

It blamed the United States for civil war in Lebanon and said the strife served as a pretext for western armed intervention. It also held the United States, Britain and Turkey responsible for an explosive situation in the Middle East.

The Soviet government already has recognized the revolutionary regime in Iraq. A Foreign Ministry spokesman said Premier Nikita Khrushchev had sent an offer for a resumption of diplomatic relations broken off 3 years ago.

MANEUVERS

London (Thursday) (AP) — Tass Thursday announced Soviet land and air forces will begin military training exercises near the Iranian border Friday.

The maneuvers will be held in the Transcaucasus and Turkestan military districts of southern Russia, according to a Soviet dispatch broadcast by Moscow Radio. The broadcast gave no other details.

The area is within striking distance of Iraq, where rebels have overthrown the pro-western government, and Turkey, where U. S. troops were landing through the night en route to the Middle East trouble spots.

Envoy Flies To Lebanon

Washington (AP)—The United States' No. 1 trouble shooter in world crises, Deputy Secretary of State Robert D. Murphy, flew to Lebanon Wednesday on hurry-up orders from President Eisenhower.

His monumental task: To try to keep the Middle East troubles from flaring into even worse catastrophe for the free world.

Even as Murphy was setting out on his suddenly decreed journey, it was announced in London that Selwyn Lloyd, the British foreign secretary, will fly to Washington Thursday.

And in another of the series of the U.S. military flights which began Tuesday with Marines being hastened to Lebanon, the Army disclosed it also was moving units toward the Middle East.

The Army said an airborne battle group stationed in Germany was flying to an undisclosed destination in the Middle East.

The Murphy and Lloyd trips coincided with signs that British troops might move into Jordan, perhaps by this weekend, to bolster its pro-west government from toppling like that of Iraq earlier in the week.

Lloyd is to talk the crisis over with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

Murphy hinted just before his departure from Washington that he might visit Jordan and possibly other countries after a week or 10 days in Lebanon.

'Wide Open'

Asked whether he would go to other Mideast spots, he said:

"It's wide open. It's not excluded."

The No. 2 man in the State Department, under Secretary Christian A. Herter, was reported to have told the House Foreign Affairs Committee in closed session Wednesday that one of Murphy's responsibilities will be to determine what specific orders are needed for U.S. troops in Lebanon.

50-Bushel Wheat In Panhandle

Sidney, Neb. (AP)—Hot, dry weather has enabled wheat growers in the southern Panhandle to start harvesting of what could be a record-breaking crop.

As farmers moved into dead ripe fields for first outtings, what they found made them feel pretty good.

The most encouraging report came from the De Mers and Son elevator at Brownson where 4,000 to 5,000 bushels of new wheat has been received.

The grain is running around 62 pounds to the bushel and most farmers say they are getting around 50 bushels to the acre or better.

Among those who have started cutting in that neighborhood are Barney Anthony, Frank Deaver, Arvine Livingston and Antone Steffens.

The Farmers Elevator in Sidney reported among first loads hauled, good quality wheat from Bill Rezac, Ed Lipke, Arnold Wittig, and the Fastenau farms south of Sidney. The Rezac and Lipke wheat ran around 59 pounds, was dry and had good color, with promise of satisfactory protein content. The Wittig and Fastenau wheat tested a full 60 pounds and ranged in moisture content from 10.5 to 11.9 per cent, which is considered dry enough for safe handling.

Council Rescission Of Business Zoning Along Hwy. 77 Recommended

. . . For Proposed Tractor Company Site

By Virgil Falloon

The City Planning Commission recommended Wednesday that the zoning for the proposed Nebraska Tractor and Equipment Co. site on So. 14th (U.S. Hwy. 77 near the Penitentiary dairy farm) be rescinded by the City Council.

This action, recommended by a 4-2 vote, followed a hearing on highway commercial zoning for an additional 330-by-660-foot tract adjoining the proposed building site.

Both the Commission and Council had denied the original zoning request, but the Council later reversed itself on rehearing the controversial zoning change.

The tract fronting on the highway will be used by the company for a sales and parts building for heavy highway equipment while the second tract would be for storage, parking and testing of the equipment.

'Inevitable Consequences'

If the Council does not reverse the original zoning, the Commission recommends in the alternative that there is no logical reason to deny the additional zoning and its "inevitable consequences."

The Commission has charged that zoning of Hwy. 77 for businesses and the inevitable expansion of the zoning foothold will turn the route "into another Cornhusker Highway."

But, Atty. Lloyd Jeffrey, representing the company and the zoning applicants, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Siddens, urged the Commission not to involve the second tract in the original controversy, which he said "has been settled by the Council."

He said the company is cooperating with the State Highway Department as to additional right-of-way needs and setbacks and denied that zoning would result in traffic congestion.

Bethany Zoning

In other action, the Commission approved commercial zoning for the Bethany business district on No. Cotner between Colby and Walker.

However, action was deferred on an additional half-block on Garland between 64th and 65th for which a change from single-family residence had been requested by Bethany Plumbing and Heating Co.

The commercial zoning granted would permit a few "light industrial" uses such as a sheet metal shop, printing shop and laundry that are non-conforming under the present local business zoning.

The action was supported by the Bethany Business Men's Association and Bethany Lions Club.

One-Story

James Thompson of Bethany Plumbing said the Garland property was proposed for a one-story building, 50 by 100 feet, for sheet metal fabrication in connection with the company's expansion.

He said 3 four-plexes would be built on Garland as a "buffer" between other residences and the proposed shop.

Final action was deferred on this request until Planning Engineer Douglas Brogden can confer with company officials concerning other possibilities "for a better sequence of zoning."

Brogden said the zoning change on Garland would be an illogical extension of the business area and intrude commercial uses into residential zoned and developed property.

Further expansion of local business zoning on No. 48th between Aylesworth and Francis was denied by the Commission.

Presently Business

The 48th frontage between Aylesworth and Martin is presently local business and occupied by a service station and Williams Nursery.

Additional local zoning was requested on 2 additional lots and for the residential property fronting on 48th between Martin and Francis.

In denying additional business zoning, the Commission did recommend that a parking permit be approved for a lot adjoining the nursery.

An additional-use permit for a proposed Business Women's Residence Hall at 1747 So. 16th was recommended denied.

Area residents appeared in opposition to the proposed use of the property as creating additional parking problems on the narrow street and as having a deleterious effect on adjacent property.

REBEL LEADER PLEDGES FIGHT FOR LEBANON

London (AP)—Lebanese rebel leader Saeb Salam said Wednesday night he would fight to the end to drive American Marines out of Lebanon, the Syrian radio at Damascus reported.

The Syrian radio, one of the voices of the United Arab Republic, quoted Salam as saying:

"We shall seek aid from any source."

The Damascus Radio said its reporter asked the Lebanese rebel leader about a report published abroad quoting British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd as saying the rebel command has ordered a cease fire.

"This is an utter lie," Salam was said to have replied.

Typhoon Winnie Said Fatal To 27

Tokyo (Thursday) (AP) — Typhoon Alice whirled 75 m.p.h. winds slowly across the Pacific 900 miles southeast of Okinawa Thursday as belated reports revealed dying typhoon Winnie killed at least 27 persons in the Philippines and Formosa.

An additional 169 were injured and more than 2½ million dollars in property damage was totaled from Winnie's blasts, at one time up to 172 m.p.h.

The storm is blowing itself out along the Red China coast. A third typhoon, Betty, at one time reported to be building up rapidly, was also down to a tropical depression.

The Air Force said Alice, at present spinning harmlessly in the open sea, is moving northwest at 9 m.p.h.

Homebuilders Expect Big Crowd Today

. . . Through Sunday

After an "overwhelming" attendance at the Parade of Homes for the first 4 days, Lincoln's homebuilders were preparing for big crowds Thursday night through next Sunday.

The 16 homes by 12 builders are open 5 to 9 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 9 p.m. Sunday. Maps in the Sunday Journal and Star gave locations of the homes.

Homebuilder Association officials said they believed the attendance so far has exceeded last year's. They pointed out that because the homes are scattered over the city this year, it "is almost impossible" to get an accurate estimate.

However, they added, "scattering" of the homes has been highly successful, giving visitors a wider selection and eliminating the "pressure" brought by bunching show homes.

The builders also were enthusiastic about the shift for the parade from fall to early summer. They said they had received the good weather they had hoped for, eliminating the necessity of closing any of the show because of rain.

Through Traffic Detoured During 10th Street Repaving

Only through traffic will be detoured between L and S during the re-paving project which got underway Wednesday. City officials said portions of the one-way street will be kept open for local traffic as much as possible. (Star Photo.)

Street Resurfacing Closes 10th To Through Traffic

. . . Remains Open To Local Traffic

Street resurfacing operations will close 10th to through traffic, but not local, from N to R, according to City Engineer Carl Fisher.

Fisher said every effort will be made to keep at least a portion of the street open for local traffic during the progress of the work, which began Wednesday.

Fisher said through traffic from Highway 77 and State 2 traveling from the south on 10th will be routed onto 9th at L and back onto 10th at S.

This portion of 9th, which will become a 2-way street, will require some temporary changes from angle to parallel parking to gain additional street width.

Not Closed

Fisher emphasized that while 10th repaving operations will cause some local traffic inconveniences, the street will not be entirely closed.

He said the improvement work would continue until about Sept. 1. It includes $75,000 worth of repaving, financed on a 50-50 basis with federal funds and special assessments, and a $25,000 street light district.

Initial work will begin on the curbing, he said. During resurfacing work, only one-half of the street will be closed at one time. Intersections will be closed to cross-traffic only as the need develops.

Bernie Goldfine Failed To File '57 Tax Returns

Boston (AP) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine is delinquent on filing his 1957 state income tax returns, Massachusetts Tax Commissioner Joseph P. Healey said.

Goldfine was declared delinquent on expiration of a 90-day extension he was granted in April.

Under the law, Healey said, Goldfine now is subject not only to interest on the due taxes since April 15, but also to penalties of 5 to 15% of the tax, plus a penalty of $5 a day for each day delinquency continues from Wednesday.

Goldfine failed to file his 1956 returns last year, Healey already had disclosed.

Weaver Confirms House VA Meet On Lincoln Deferred

Lincoln Star Special

Weaver confirmed Wednesday night that the hearing scheduled July 22 before a subcommittee of the House Veterans Affairs Committee on the proposed move of VA regional offices from Lincoln "has been deferred for the time being."

Rep. Olin D. Teague (D-Tex) chairman of the House committee, agreed to a request from Weaver that the hearing be postponed for the time being.

Weaver, a member of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, first set up the hearing in Lincoln June 19 on the matter before a sub-committee headed by Rep. B. F. Sisk of California.

"I am sure," said Weaver, "that since other facilities in Lincoln are available for the VA regional office, and since they are presently under inspection by VA representatives from Washington, I do not think it would be in order to continue hearings on this subject until we get the results of the current survey"

'Early Conference'

Weaver said VA Deputy Administrator Robert Lamphere "has assured me an early conference as soon as he has received a report from VA representatives Leonard Goulde and Kelley Campbell."

The First District congressman said he expects that conference to be held "the first part of next week."

This further survey by the VA, Weaver said, could well result in a final and favorable decision that the VA office will stay in Lincoln.

Citing the impression made by Lincoln Chamber of Commerce representatives on Washington VA officials at a Monday meeting in the nation's capital, Weaver said this response of the VA was a "receptive one and encouraging to all of us who believe that if they (the VA) have all the facts, the decision ultimately has to favor Lincoln."

First Woman Treasurer Mrs. Ralph Hill Takes Oath Succeeding Husband

By Betty Person

Nebraska's first woman treasurer, Mrs. Ralph W. Hill, was sworn into office Wednesday morning to succeed her late husband in simple, but emotion-charged ceremonies at the State Capitol.

Nebraska Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons administered the oath to Mrs. Hill in the office of her late husband who served as state treasurer from January, 1955 until his death Sunday morning.

Standing beside Mrs. Hill as she received the oath of office was Governor Victor Anderson who appointed her to the post, thus making her the first woman in Nebraska history to serve in such a high executive constitutional office.

Mrs. Hill, dressed in navy blue, told the governor she knew her appointment was a "tribute to Dad," and commented that she would do her "level-best" to do the best possible job.

'Because Of Ralph'

"You've done this because of Ralph," Mrs. Hill said to Gov. Anderson, "and I can't think of a nicer tribute."

Interjecting a lighter note in the proceedings, Gov. Anderson told Mrs. Hill, "You'll be the greatest lady treasurer Nebraska has ever had, and of course, you're our first lady treasurer—but I know sincerely that you will give your very best to the office."

The governor and Mrs. Hill both joined in praise for the staff of the treasurer's office and particularly commended Deputy State Treasurer Frank Ullstrom who has handled all of the office's fiscal matters since Mr. Hill's illness began last December.

Expresing his "confidence" in Ullstrom, the governor said, "We all realize how important you are in this office and I know you will give Mrs. Hill the help you have promised."

'First I've Kissed'

At the completion of the ceremonies, Chief Justice Simmons leaned over and kissed Mrs. Hill, laughingly commenting that he has administered the oath of office to many state officers "but this is the first time I've ever kissed a treasurer."

Others present for the ceremonies included Mrs. Hill's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McCaw of Lincoln; State Auditor Ray C Johnson; State Director of Agriculture and Mrs. Ed Hoyt; Mrs. Robert Simmons; Byron Dunn of Lincoln, president of the National Bank of Commerce, and numerous Statehouse friends of the Hills.

With the official ceremonies completed, the office of the treasurer was once again in business. Under Nebraska law, it had ceased to function at Mr. Hill's death and could not re-open until his successor had been sworn in and bonded.

$1 Million Bond

The state treasurer must be bonded for $1 million and the late Mr. Hill's bond has now been transferred to his wife so that she may perform the official duties of the office.

In the interim, the various agencies of state government have not been able to deposit money in the treasurer's office, nor has the state been able to pay any bills.

Gov. Anderson said it will be about 5 days before the plates bearing Mrs. Hill's signature will be ready for the machines that sign the thousands of vouchers that pour through the office each month.

He noted, however, that Mrs. Hill could sign any emergency vouchers by hand until the plates are ready.

MRS. HILL HAS U.S. COUNTERPARTS

Mrs. Ralph W. Hill, newly-appointed state treasurer, is joining the ranks of 2 ladies on the federal government level as a chief of fiscal affairs.

Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark was the first woman ever to hold the post of U.S. treasurer when she was appointed to that position in 1949 by former President Harry Truman.

President Dwight Eisenhower followed suit when he took office in 1953 by naming Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest as U.S. treasurer.

The names of these 2 ladies have graced billions of dollars in U.S. currency and the name of Mrs. Ralph W. Hill will grace millions of dollars in state vouchers before she retires from office next January.

Attended KU

Born at Oberlin, Kan. Mrs. Hill attended public schools at Oberlin and later attended Kansas University.

Following her marriage to Mr. Hill, the couple moved to Hebron, Neb. in 1927 where they lived until Mr. Hill was elected as state treasurer and they moved to Lincoln when he began his tenure of office in 1955.

A member of the DAR, PEO, Lincoln Woman's Club, Tuesday Review Study Club and a life member of the Hebron Woman's Club, Mrs. Hill also has served as past state president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs.

No stranger to state governmental affairs, Mrs. Hill was appointed to the Board of Education of State Normal Schools in 1944 by the late former Gov. Dwight Griswold, and was re-appointed by former Gov. Val Peterson in 1945 and served until 1952. She was president of the Board in 1951 and 1952.

The new treasurer also has served as state president of the Council of State Women's Organizations, was president for 2 terms of the Ladies Unicameral Club and is a member of the Ladies Legislative League.

Mother's Chairman

She also has served for several years as chairman of the State Mother's Committee.

During World War II she served as co-ordinator of defense in Thayer County and was active for many years in civic work in Hebron and Thayer County.

Mrs. Hill also is well-known around the state for her work in the Republican Party and was a familiar figure in the 1954 and 1956 elections traveling with the Republican campaign caravan.

Mrs. Hill's sister, Mrs. Lyle McGee, resides at Oxford, Neb. One brother, George Steele of Detroit, is vice president of the Ohio and Indiana Telephone Company, and her other brother, Curtis Steele, also of Detroit, is general manager of the Vertex Tool Company.

She has one daughter, Mrs. Kenneth McCaw of Lincoln, and one granddaughter, Karen. Mrs. Hill resides at 5100 Valley Road in Lincoln.

Long Signs

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl Long signed a new segregation law requiring blood plasma be labeled according to race.

He also okayed 2 other bills pushed by Louisiana's joint legislative committee on segregation.

The 2 require the attorney general to assist registrars of voters, and continue registrars' pay whenever they are forced away from their regular duties by federal integration action.

A Second Reversal

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There was really not a great deal of surprise in the announcement by Western Electric that it probably will shut down its Lincoln plant within the next 12 months. The element of surprise had been removed with previous announcements of cutbacks and rumors as to the doubtful future of the plant in Lincoln.

Still, the statement by company officials on the probable closing caused a great many people to seriously ask their friends, "what do you think of the Western Electric deal?" Following close on the heels of the Elgin National Watch Company closing, the W.E. decision is not a pleasant one. Quite naturally, it raises some apprehension about the immediate years ahead for Lincoln. Many people begin to wonder how secure their own jobs might be in view of possible economic effects upon the community from the industrial cutbacks.

Apprehension And Insecurity

They fear the effects on real estate, particularly the equity they might have in their own homes. Many a life's savings is tied up in property on which a difference of 5 or 6 per cent in the value means the loss or security of these savings. These and others are not considerations to be taken lightly.

While these considerations are real and are with us today, it should also be recognized that the situation is one of degrees. There is no doubt that we have suffered an economic setback in Lincoln but this does not mean we have been defeated.

There is, first of all, the qualification of probability which accompanied the W.E. statements. While a statement of probability in such a situation may be more one of likelihood, it is still not definite. Certainly, every effort should and will be made to keep W.E. in Lincoln as long as possible.

But it would be unwise to assume that the plant will not eventually leave the city. Large, national industrial organizations such as these should not be expected to become a permanent fixture in a community at the very beginning. Circumstances and requirements change which make it imperative that industry move to meet these changes. It is only natural that this move is sometimes going to be a physical and literal one.

In industry, there is a constant state of expansion, consolidation and modernization. A physical plant in one location today may be outmoded and inefficient 10 years from now. In the shifting that is a natural product of this change, any community which seeks and has an industrial payroll must expect some fluctuations.

It would be to the credit, welfare and benefit of Lincoln to view the Elgin and Western Electric closings as one part of the cycle of a never ending industrial revolution. This will not blot out the immediate realities of lost jobs and hardships but it will permit us to realistically appraise the situation and to then move forward toward new achievements.

Only in this state of realism will we again taste the sweetness of the other part of the industrial cycle—the acquisition of new firms. Lincoln might keep in mind at this time the Cushman Motor Works, recently aligned in a merger with Outboard Marine Motors Corp. If this combination brings a modern production plant to the city, it might well mean that some other city loses an operation it has had for perhaps the past 10 or 15 years.

Our Profit Another's Loss

To make progress from this point, Lincoln will have to be alert to the times and cognizant of the latest demands and requirements of industry. Lincoln people will have to work diligently in this area of new businesses but it has been done before and will be done again. We will learn from our reversals and, with determination, turn them into assets.

Fitting Appointment

Nebraska will applaud Governor Anderson's decision to name Mrs. Ralph Hill state treasurer.

It also agrees with Mrs. Hill who in taking the oath of office to complete the unexpired term of her late husband said, "You've done this for Ralph and I cannot think of a nicer tribute."

But Mrs. Hill was modestly guilty of understatement. She has been an outstanding citizen in her own right, deserving of public recognition and thoroughly prepared to direct the affairs of the state treasury. This appointment was a nice piece of thoughtfulness that will reward the giver.

Mrs. Hill is the first woman to hold high state office, but not the first to prove that Nebraska women can acquit themselves admirably as public representatives. The latter was well taken care of during the appointive service of both former U.S. Senator Eve Bowring of Merriman and Hazel Abel of Lincoln.

As a state official Mrs. Hill has the responsibility both of handling the complicated duties of her office well and pioneering the way for women in state public service. And for that duty a better candidate could not have been selected.

Far Too Many Accidents

The Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation has commented that Nebraska is the third most dangerous state in the Union in the matter of agricultural hazard. It finds the thought shocking and is calling on the state's farm operators to use the 15th National Farm Safety Week as a period in which to fashion a permanent reform. To all of which The Star heartily agrees.

Power farm machinery claims the most victims; tractors toppling over on the operator, power take-offs twisting the life out of him, combines threshing the farmer instead of the wheat. Of all farm fatalities last year the national percentage of machine induced deaths was 31.1. North Dakota beat that with 45.4%, winning the dubious distinction of being first. South Dakota was second with 42.5% while Nebraska was third with 40.9%.

Curiously enough death by electrocution is rare on Nebraska farms, only 1.2% of the varied total.

One could go into all the details of farm tragedy but it is sufficient to say that there are far too many and most of them are preventable through the exercise of prudence plus full respect for the power of modern farm machinery.

There has also been lacking a public sensitivity to safe machine design and too many implements are being accepted for farm use lacking the sufficient safeguards for life and limb.

Dogs And Rabies

If the City-County Health Department views mandatory vaccination of dogs against rabies as an essential preventive measure, then we are not going to argue with them, despite some misgivings. Frankly, the spread of rabies is too serious a business to take any chances with and we would rather see all dogs vaccinated than one child die with the disease.

But the Health Department went on to also recommend to the City Council that "all steps immediately be taken to fully enforce all present ordinances as to stray dogs." No one can argue that laws on the books should not be enforced but there is another side to this picture that should be presented.

A great many people who own dogs let their pets make a nuisance of themselves in one way or another. On the other hand, there are a great many people who don't own dogs who make a nuisance of themselves by objecting about dog owners. The Humane Society goes on about as many wild goose chases as it does legitimate calls.

It should be recognized that there are also some practical difficulties to enforcing the so-called dog tieup law. Under the law, a dog must be confined to its master's premises unless out at the end of a leash. This is a difficult law to enforce.

It is humanly impossible for someone from the Humane Society to always be on hand when a dog is running loose. Oftentimes, before a call on a loose dog can be answered the animal has gone on to another area or has returned home. It would be conservative to say that the personnel and equipment of the Humane Society would have to be doubled to really eliminate all stray dogs. Even this would be no guarantee and the Society or the city certainly does not have the money to go into any such extensive program. Let's let sleeping dogs lie, even if they do nap on the neighbor's lawn occasionally.

Story Book Boy

It is a rewarding experience to learn that Dick Stuart, erstwhile long hitter for the Lincoln Chiefs, is plying his vigorous trade in the big leagues in the same satisfying fashion as he did here as recently as last fall.

Dick is a story book lad and never does anything by halves. This was delightful here when his booming bat was shattering the Western League home run record. It was equally depressing when he did not hit the home run, which was every now and then.

Pittsburgh will find him the same way. As this was written he had hit his third homer and had been instrumental in two Pittsburgh victories—a fair piece of work for a rookie.

And it all reminds Lincoln that its Western League is not as far from the big leagues as one would think and that this summer, as every summer, the spectators are looking at the lads who will be the big major leaguers of the near tomorrow.

It takes a Dick Stuart to keep that fact well in mind.

Onward, Upward

The economic progress of the United States is impressive. Just think, in the depression of the '30's citizens of substance were encouraged to buy apples to aid sellers without substance. Today the same are being admonished to buy automobiles.

Israel's Warning Was Not Heeded

WASHINGTON — The Kremlin timetable for the Near East is running right on schedule. Last October, after talks with Arab leaders, this writer reported Nasser's plan to unite Syria and Egypt, and Moscow's plan to work with Nasser in gradually taking over all the Arab states through subversion and revolution.

The Kremlin timetable, as then reported, was three months to take over the desert kingdom of Jordan; six months to take Saudi Arabia; nine months to take Lebanon; and 12 months to take Iraq.

The timetable is late in one respect, early in another. Jordan did not fall in three months. Tough little King Hussein, backed by American arms and the British-trained bedouins of the Arab Legion, resisted all attempts to undermine his regime.

Instead, the timetable was speeded up for Iraq. This country, supposed stronghold of the West, was scheduled to become Nasserized in 12 months. Instead, it fell in nine months.

It was to block the Kremlin timetable that the Eisenhower doctrine was proclaimed. Here is how both timetable and the doctrine are working:

☆ ☆ ☆

Saudi Arabia—King Saud's glamor visit to the U.S.A. seems to have been for naught. The old king is sick, a virtual prisoner in his own palace, surrounded by wives, children, and medical prescriptions. His brother, Prince Faisal, a friend of Nasser's, has been running the country.

☆ ☆ ☆

Lebanon — Handsome, pro-west President Chamoun, a Catholic surrounded by Moslems, is bitter against the United States. For weeks he has been pressing Secretary Dulles informally for aid under the Eisenhower doctrine; and for an equal number of weeks, Dulles has been working through the U.S. ambassador to head off any formal request for aid. Only this week did the desperate Chamoun lay it on the line with the formal invocation of the Eisenhower doctrine. Up until then, Dulles had pointed out that the United Nations found no evidence of foreign intervention.

However, UN Secretary Dag Hammarskjold has now admitted privately to American diplomats that he deliberately whitewashed Syrian-Egyptian intervention in Lebanon in order not to embarrass Nasser. When Hammarskjold went to Cairo, Nasser promised to co-operate with the UN, if the UN did not embarrass him. On the other hand, if the United States and England intervened, Nasser warned, he would be forced to resist. So Hammarskjold pulled a "Munich" and declared there was no evidence of Egyptian-Syrian arms entering Lebanon.

Iraq—Instead of co-operating with Dag Hammarskjold as promised, Nasser's agents in Baghdad dealt the West one of the most deadly blows so far received in the Near East. The United States had not the slightest inkling that revolt was coming. Allen Dulles's Central Intelligence, usually accurate, was caught with its wire-taps down.

We were so confident of the Iraqi army that we were planning to use them, along with Turkish troops, to intervene in Lebanon. American transport planes had been flown to southern Turkey near the Iraqi border from Wiesbaden to be ready to ferry Iraqi troops to Lebanon.

Congress Pensive Over Ike's Action

WASHINGTON — Congress greeted United States intervention in the Middle East soberly and with its fingers crossed.

All its responsible members realized that President Eisenhower's action in landing marines in Lebanon was irreversible as of the moment. To weaken or to undermine it, they said among themselves, would be a terrible mistake.

At the same time, they were fully aware that it was much easier to get into the danger area with armed forces than to get out. Repeatedly in private discussion they brought up Korea, its military history and the repercussions at home.

Members generally expressed astonishment that after his long hesitations in a situation which has plainly been deteriorating for a long time, the President should have acted so quickly. From one participant in the White House conferences with administration officials came the flat statement that the President did not tell them he intended such action.

It is now believed by senators that the action had already been ordered. They will not make a point of it, under the circumstances, but they will believe it.

Senators present at the White House conferences also state the Central Intelligence Agency was caught absolutely flat-footed. They are much more critical of this than of past CIA failures respecting Russia, pointing out that Iraq was a friendly country, a beneficiary of American aid, both military and economic.

The President was described by a responsible source as committed to the view that the Iraq disaster was a plot on the part of the Kremlin.

When this assumption on his part became evident—it is described as an assumption because no proof of it was offered—a few bolder spirits ventured to suggest that they might conceivably be dealing with civil war in Iraq.

The President was said to have reacted cooly, even with a slight flavour of hostility, to such a notion. Reminded that Egypt's Nasser had proved adept at exploiting Arab nationalism, he remained unresponsive.

☆ ☆ ☆

A few sounded a note of cautious optimism, suggesting that if American action can save the situation temporarily, it would perhaps help to stabilize things. They don't exactly believe it, but it is not against the law to hope. If Korea were not so fresh in their minds, they might press this argument with more force, but this is substantially the same Congress which dealt with that chapter of American history. In fact, many members would put it that they suffered through and from that chapter and they are not disposed to forget it.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Development Of Obedience

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

One of the first things the owner of a new dog wants to test is his dog's I.Q. And one of the primary testing grounds is the obedience class where household pet and lofty show dog get an equal chance to master some formal education.

Last week at Antelope Park several dozen local canines wound up eight weeks of intensive work on the commands and procedures, the mastery of which is supposed to render a dog obedient. Graduation night was taken up with a final judging that produced trophy winners in the beginners' class and the advanced class.

If that contest proved anything other than how well the dogs can go through their paces, it showed that there is no best breed when it comes to obedience training.

The dog that carried off the honors in the advanced class is the handsome German shepherd, Shawn, of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brooks of 3301 St. Paul. Contrasting with the German shepherd's bulk was the winner in the beginners' class, an alert little Shetland sheep dog, Cindy Lou, of Mr. and Mrs. John Broughton of 3762 Mohawk.

Scoring close to Cindy Lou were two toy poodles.

☆ ☆ ☆

All of the dogs mentioned here were handled by the distaff side. But neither Mrs. Broughton nor Mrs. Brooks apparently chose their dogs with obedience competition in mind.

The Broughtons decided on a Shetland sheep dog first and when the dog was six months old, decided to try training her in a class. Besides being a project for Mrs. Broughton, Cindy Lou is a good companion for the Broughtons' three-year-old daughter, Deanne, Mrs. Broughton explains.

MRS. BROOKS & SHAWN; MRS. BROUGHTON & CINDY
. . . eight weeks' training proved them best . . .

The Brooks' ambition is to enter their dog in competition until it attains its obedience degree. Graduation at the head of the class last week was just a step in that direction. Now comes the real competition in sanctioned American Kennel Club dog shows.

☆ ☆ ☆

But the formal competition a dog might win after his training in obedience exercises is not the only value of such work. The dogs are taught to stay by the side of their masters no matter how fast he walks or runs.

They learn to sit when told and finally, in one of the most difficult exercises, the dogs are taught to stay in a spot designated by the masters while the masters leave.

In obedience trials the master does not leave the dog for more than three minutes, but once trained, a dog may stay for hours without so much as a glimpse of the master.

Obedience classes begin to develop the qualities in a dog that have made canines the legendary friend of man. These exercises merely begin to bring out the devotion a dog may develop for an individual. From such workouts come the "one-man dogs" that furnish the material for many a fireside tale.

But no matter what potential for learning commands a dog may have, it is up to the master to bring out the dog's capacity for learning and devotion. Between classes go hours of work at home to develop the ability to answer to the directions of the man in charge of the trials.

So the winning of obedience competition and the practical applications of obedience work that provide satisfaction to the master are not so much a result of the dog's I.Q. as a reflection of the master's patience, care and devotion to the dog.

Callousness To Death

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Police Chief Joseph Carroll evidently never has lost a relative or close friend in a traffic fatality.

At least, his callousness to the recent death of a Lincoln man injured in an auto accident indicates he hasn't. Chief Carroll expressed no sadness over the man's death, but was indignant over the fact that the death might be put on the city traffic records.

It would seem that our police officials would be more interested in preventing accidents than in whether the death would go on the city record.

The dead man's relatives must be sickened by seeing the name of their beloved tossed casually around as Chief Carroll attempts to keep "his" record clean.

DEPRESSED

Editor's Note: Chief Carroll's position has been that in so long as there is a question as to the exact cause of this death, that it should not be counted as a traffic fatality. His concern for Lincoln's traffic safety record in no way reflects upon his feelings about the untimely death. The fact that he wants to maintain a good traffic record does not mean he is oblivious to the other more human aspects of the case, but rather, that he does not consider them one and the same thing.

Medical Service

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Lincoln is quite a city with a large population, but there is one thing that is badly lacking, and that is the services of doctors.

People get sick, try for a doctor, but can't get any. It has always been thought doctors were public servants. But that thought has disappeared in Lincoln. Some agency of government should look into this situation and people should have doctor's services.

On Bingo

Blair, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The game of Bingo is an inoffensive one which has given pleasant diversion to millions, old and young alike, for years. I have rarely played the game, but I have never imbibed beer, although I think others should be permitted to enjoy both things in a free nation.

I believe that the people of this state will legalize Bingo at the next election. I hardly believe that this action will further corrupt the general morality of the people of this state.

There will be organized opposition to legalizing Bingo from certain church groups, some of whom have already expressed opposition. I have always felt that such groups, if they were really so sincere about the various forms of legal and illegal vice, should sink their teeth into the Nebraska law which legalizes pari-mutuel horse race betting. This sort of legalized gambling is truly big business.

Where are the organized church groups on this issue? When did they last stand up to be counted on it? I would wager that legalized horse race betting in Nebraska could be defeated if an organized fight were to be made. But no, the "forces of good" would rather fight against the little Bingo player.

Charter Amendment

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The City Charter Revision Committee, appointed by the City Council, is now attempting to prepare an amendment that would make it more difficult for the people to use their right of petition. This would be accomplished by raising the number of petition signers required to make it valid.

Why not an amendment that the councilmen be elected for 2 years and if they prove themselves we will elect them again? Also why not an amendment that the city attorney be an elected official?

With due respect to Mr. Nelson, should in event the council become too one-sided the city attorney has two masters to serve, the boys and the people. Being an appointed official it is easy to determine who it would be. It is very hard to fight corruption when you have to fight your own tax money.

Our Memories

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Memories are the backbone of every living thing. Animals survive only by governing their future by past experiences. A child must remember yesterdays lessons. The adult progresses by improving the past. Yes, for the very old it is a haven of retreat when they are no longer needed.

God in his goodness gave us laughter, and minds to travel forward and backward. To recall a cherished moment, perhaps of one loved, a star lit heaven, a sadness. Memories are future history, how drab a tomorrow that had no past. So it is not a safety valve for the dissatisfied or decrepit. It just makes good writing so the poet thought, that dared "Make me a child again, just for tonight." Upon which even God in His understanding must have smiled, since He so loves them.

Hospitals are filled with those who have lost the privilege of looking backward, spicing their lives from some of the happier things of the past. For these things He gave us 'Memories' to use along the way and how ghastly never to have indulged in this passing adventure.

ANITA CLARK

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

"On the contrary, he's our most effective man—when they see him sitting up there, nobody ventures out very far."

No Action On Extension Of Beer Hours

Although no one appeared in opposition to a proposed half-hour extension of closing hours on Saturday nights for the county's beer taverns, the County Board postponed action on the proposal until next week's Board meeting.

The Board indicated it would give the public further time to make known its beliefs on the matter.

Bob Lear, operator of a tavern at 2050 Adams, has appeared before the Board several times in recent weeks requesting he be allowed to sell on-sale beer until 12:30 and off-sale beer until 1 a.m. on Saturday nights only. Present county limits are 12 on-sale and 12:30 off-sale.

Lear renewed his request Tuesday, and was backed by Bob Logsdon, president of the Lancaster County Beer Dealers Assn. Logsdon said the tavern owners pay a $375 yearly license fee but bottle clubs in the county pay no license fees at all.

He said the tavern owners should be given every possible break.

Lincoln beer parlors must halt both on-sale and off-sale beer sales at midnight.

New Definition

Temple, Okla. (AP) — Charles Cooper has a new definition for a small town. It is a place where, if you get a wrong telephone number, you go ahead and talk as you probably haven't seen the folks for a day or 2 anyway.

700 NEBRASKANS TO FLY TO AIR GUARD CAMP

Seven hundred Nebraska Air National Guardsmen of the 173rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron, including 6 members of the State Air Staff will leave Lincoln Sunday for a 2-week summer training camp at Gulfport, Miss.

The camp, which has been held at Casper, Wyo., since 1953, will be at Gulfport for the first time. The reason for this, according to Lt. Col. Fred H. Bailey Jr., Gulfport was the only available camp with a range and radar which are important for fighter squad practice.

Also for the first time the Guardsmen, under Col. Bailey and Brig. Gen. John M. Campbell, will be transported by chartered commercial plane, leaving Lincoln Sunday and returning Aug. 3. In recent years they have gone by train.

The Army National Guard Camp will be held at Camp Ripley, Minn., from July 27 to Aug. 1, with 3,500 men representing the 45 units in Nebraska.

Army Reserve groups will attend various camps located at Ft. Carson, Colo.; Camp McCoy, Wis.; Ft. Riley, Kan., and Wright Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, O., during July and August.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Naval Air Station will be the site for the Marine Reserve camp Aug. 2-16.

Air and Navy Reservemen can take their 2 weeks active duty at any time during the year.

BRIEF ASKS AFFIRMATION OF MINIMUM WAGE SUIT RULING

Ten construction firms, in a brief filed with the State Supreme Court, have stated that the Douglas County District Court decision holding void an Omaha City Council action which stipulated certain minimum wages for contractural work let by the city should be affirmed.

The brief was filed by the following construction firms: Dugdale Construction Co., Parks Construction Co., General Contractors, Inc., Pane & Co., Inc., National Construction Co., Parsons Construction Co., Miller Excavating Co., Anchor Construction Co., the Flinn Paving Co., and the Noble Construction Co.

The case concerned 2 suits, consolidated by the district court into one.

They were brought by contractors desiring to contract with the city of Omaha, and by a taxpayer of the city, John W. Philson.

Each contained 2 causes of action, one for a declaratory judgment, the other for injunctive relief, directed against the Omaha City Council action requiring a contractor bidding on public work to agree to pay at least the wage provided by ordinance, or have his bid rejected on that ground alone.

The district court decided in favor of the contractors and taxpayer Philson, holding the action of the council void, and enjoining the enforcement of ordinances containing such minimum wage provisions.

The defendants have appealed the case to the state's high court.

Defendants include the city of Omaha and city officials.

The Omaha Construction and Building Trades Council were listed as intervenors in the case.

Homey Addition

Richmond, Va. (AP) — The governor of Virginia and the first lady may now breakfast without being seated in the big state dining room of the mansion. A homey little breakfast nook is a new addition to the historic building.

U.S. Rejects Military Action To Restore Pro-West Iraq Rule

Washington (UPI) —The United States has rejected any idea of immediate U.S. or allied military intervention to restore pro-western rule in Iraq, a reliable source said.

However, the informant said the State Department has not finally ruled out the possibility of encouraging King Hussein of Jordan—Iraq's partner in the now wrecked Arab Union—to march on Baghdad with Jordanian and loyal Iraqi troops.

This may be among courses of action in the Middle East crisis which Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd will discuss here.

It also may be a course on which diplomatic trouble shooter Robert D. Murphy will take soundings on his hurried trip to the Middle East.

One At A Time

The State Department was said to have decided that one major action at a time—in Lebanon—is all that the U.S. government can consider now.

Dulles was described as preferring to wait and hope that the West will win in Lebanon and thus strengthen chances of dealing with the problem in Iraq.

U.S. experts on the Middle East were said to have advised almost unanimously against risking war over Iraq, hoping that the rebels will be unable to consolidate their hold.

Some pro-western Middle East diplomats here say this is wishful thinking.

Appeal

In going into Lebanon with U.S. forces, President Eisenhower responded to an appeal by its legitimate government. The situation is not so clear in Iraq.

However, justification for intervention could be provided by an appeal from Jordan, particularly if it comes before the rebel government in Iraq has established claim to authority.

Young King Hussein, cousin of the assassinated King Feisal of Iraq, has now declared himself to be monarch of the Iraq-Jordan Union.

Whether he is willing to act, and under what conditions of western support, has not been disclosed.

Law Hunts Check Artist At Beatrice

. . . Lincolnite Escaped

Lincoln Star Special

Beatrice, Neb. — City and county law officers are still searching for a fleet-footed check artist who gave them the slip after being apprehended.

It has been learned since that the man purchased a .25 caliber German-made pistol with one of the checks he passed, so should be considered armed, according to Sheriff Ned Maxwell.

According to authorities, the man, identifying himself as Joseph Horion, about 23, and reportedly from Lincoln, deposited $30 in a local bank, obtained monogrammed checks in his name, then began a buying spree among Beatrice merchants.

After writing the first check, he was out of funds, so several following checks were written on insufficient funds, the sheriff said.

On receiving an inquiry, a bank official cornered Horion in a Beatrice store and enticed him into returning to the bank to talk the matter over. Officers were called and while bank officials, officers and the check writer were discussing the situation, the man suddenly bolted.

Trailways Buses Roll Friday If New Pact OKd

Results of the union election on acceptance of a new contract with American Trailways Bus Lines will be totaled Thursday night, according to officials.

If the contract wins approval striking drivers will return to work at 12:01 a.m. Friday, a union spokesman said.

The details of the agreement reached between the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes and the bus company have not yet been released and officials on both sides refused comment on terms of the contract.

Last Drama

Los Angeles (AP) — Billy Graham thinks the world now is witnessing "the shuffling on stage for the last great drama of history."

"History began in the Middle East," the evangelist told a news conference. He termed the Middle Eastern situation very dangerous.

Halt For Beer

Beirut (UPI)—Three Marines, one carrying a rifle, marched into the bar of the swank St. George Hotel before the gaping eyes of high society customers.

Each ordered a beer. They gulped it and then moved along on patrol. One, a sergeant, explained he knew the place because he had been there on leave.

600 Protest

Buenos Aires (AP)—An unruly crowd of 600 Communist-led demonstrators threw tar bombs at the walls and broke windows in the U.S. Embassy in protest against American landings in Lebanon.

"Down with Yankee Imperialism" and "invaders should quit Lebanon," the demonstrators shouted during an unauthorized parade.

Remove Parking From 4 Blocks AlongHighway77

Beatrice, Neb. — Parking will be taken off of Sixth Street along 4 blocks of the downtown area as a condition of recent improvement of the street using state and federal funds. The street carries U.S. Highway 77 through town.

The council took action following a letter from Albert C Spann, engineer of the Nebraska Division of the Federal Bureau of Roads, to State Engineer L. N. Ress and relayed to the council.

Spann called attention to an agreement between the city, state and federal departments relative to prohibiting parking on the highway street.

Parking will be removed along the 4 blocks from Elk Street to Bell Street on Sixth.

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

The flower industry was dealt a low blow. Queen Elizabeth has sinus trouble. "She may be receiving too many bouquets," said the British medic.

This is wonderful news—naturally I am sorry for the Queen and wish her good health. But it is wonderful news.

This completely sets back the ladies' magazines who are constantly yakking how we should bring home posies to madame.

"A small gift of the most inexpensive flowers works miracles."

That is what I read in the ladies' magazines.

Bring home some red, red roses, Claude. And pass the penicillin.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, I do not read the ladies' magazines for hot tips on the cake mix set.

I read them to get into a rage. I hear when you get in a rage, your glands begin to whip up adrenalin in a handy-mix package. They shoot this pep material into your blood stream.

You can whip tigers. That is good for you.

You can whip tigers. But can you whip madame?

No. She reads this literary fodder and stays a chapter ahead of you. She knows all the little gifts you should be toting home. All the little remarks you should be saying.

That makes her extremely dissatisfied.

"Joe, you did not notice how my hair looks."

"Looks OK to me," says Joe. "What happened to your hair?"

"Oh, Joe," cries the lady, "how could you fail to notice I have cut the ends where they tuck under?"

"Well, blast and this and that," says Joe. "How can I see them if they are tucked under?"

"You should," says the lady. "For it says that you should in the magazine."

"Let me see that rag," says Joe.

Half an hour later, Joe is ready to fight tigers. In fact, he should go out and fight a tiger. He is licked where he is.

☆ ☆ ☆

Prince Philip got off a good one some time ago about washing dishes. He advised all the ladies to wash their dishes in the morning — I think that was it.

Now I imagine Prince Philip wouldn't know dishwater from Duz. I do not imagine a Prince sits around the palace looking at dishes in the sink.

Nonetheless, I am for the Prince. He is my boy.

He advised ladies to DO the dishes. And he did not shillyshally around about how the breadwinner should help dry.

This gives us quite an edge on the home front.

"When Prince Philip starts drying dishes, I will start drying."

That is what I say. I am a prince of a fellow.

I did not notice the Prince saying anything about how we should all buy a dishwashing machine, either. No, sir. He said: "Wash the dishes, girls. Wash them in the morning."

That is a royal statement. And it will be hard for any lady to get around it.

The ladies magazines are revealed for what they are—out of step with blue-blooded culture. I do not imagine anybody with a dishwasher would be asked to the Royal enclosure at Ascot. Or invited to tea at Buckingham Palace.

Oh, joyous day! Oh, jolly, jolly England!

Only a cad would bring home daffodils and give his helpmeet sinus trouble.

Bring home a small gift. Bring home a pair of rubber gloves and an inexpensive alarm clock. She can get up early and do the dishes.

Mansfield Says Iraq Crisis Was Surprise To Administration

Washington (AP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) said the overthrow of Iraq's pro-West regime was a complete surprise to the Eisenhower administration.

He gave this view to newsmen after he and other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had questioned Under Secretary of State Christian A. Herter for more than 2 hours in secret session.

"Mr. Herter acquitted himself very well under the circumstances," Mansfield said.

"In my opinion Secretary Dulles and the State Department are not to blame for the failure to act in advance.

"There was a complete lack of intelligence. The English intelligence was just as lacking as ours."

For Peace

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) told the Senate after the session with Herter there should be talks between President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and top U.S. spokesmen, possibly including President Eisenhower, to restore peace in the Mideast.

"Before the shooting starts we should talk with Nasser," Humphrey said, adding such talks could be conducted by Secretary of State Dulles, Vice President Nixon or Eisenhower.

He said Nasser should agree to such talks since this country sided with him during the Suez Canal crisis.

Humphrey termed unwise the landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon. He said some Arab may throw a stick of dynamite at night or otherwise touch off hostilities.

Infiltration

Washington (AP)—The State Department told Congress it has heard of more than 100 reports of infiltration of Lebanon by President Nasser's United Arab Republic between May 11 and June 21.

Undersecretary Christian A. Herter gave House Foreign Affairs Committee members at the start of a secret briefing session a list of reports identified only as "based on information received from various sources by the U.S. government."

They pictured Lebanon as subject day after day to subversion and intervention from Syrian and Egyptian forces linking hands with opponents of President Camille Chamoun's government.

Recognized

Frankfurt, Germany (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia has recognized the new Iraqi republic, the official Czechoslovak news agency reported.

Shrine Leader Plans To 'Spread Authority'

Chicago (AP)—The new head of Masonry's 800,000 Shriners says he'll spread his authority around.

That's a revolutionary approach to a job which carries the title, Imperial Potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America.

But 65-year-old George Edward Stringfellow of East Orange, N.J., has been a lifelong re-shuffler of the status quo. He studied the philosophy of experimentation as an assistant of Thomas Alva Edison, inventor of electric light.

Deputizing Officers

Stringfellow said his first move will be to deputize 11 Imperial officers of the Shrine as his personal representatives in a definite district.

He has already secured promises of more than 90 per cent of the state and district Grand Lodge masters who lead some 4½ million Masons in North America to be his representatives.

"I want to see the Shriners work more closely with other Masonic bodies," Stringfellow said. "I think we can help implement each others' objectives."

"Then too," he smiled, "I wish the Shrine had more members and the Masons who aren't members are our prospects."

Stringfellow, a Virginian, who has never lost the Old Dominion speech and courtly manner, is vice president of the Thomas A. Edison Industries of the McGraw-Edison, West Orange, N.J.

Quotes Edison

He quotes his old boss, Edison, as prompter of his plan for decentralization of Shrine leadership. "He told me, 'Any man who does anything he can delegate to someone else—he's being overpaid,'" he said.

Two Navy Pilots Killed As Plane Hits Near Detroit

Detroit (AP)—Two Naval Air Reserve pilots whose plane engine failed to takeoff were killed Wednesday when they swerved to avoid a house and crashed.

Dead were Lt. Comdr. Allen Radford Dale, 34, and Lt. Don Leroy Southworth, 32, both of Trenton, Mich.

Officials at the Grosse Ile Naval Air Base said the engine of the S2F Navy jet failed just as the plane cleared base property. The plane swerved to avoid a vacant house at the end of the runway, lost altitude and exploded as it crashed.

U.S. Firm Against Pullout Of Marines

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The United States held firm Wednesday against mounting pressure spearheaded by the Soviet Union for withdrawal of U.S. Marines from Lebanon.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge insisted in the 11-nation Security Council only an international military force can supplant the Marines in the little revolt-torn Middle East nation.

The council postponed action until 2 p.m. EST Thursday on a U.S. resolution authorizing creation of the international force to protect Lebanon's independence from subversion by President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

A Soviet veto appeared certain. There was no prospect either that the council would approve a rival Soviet resolution urging immediate withdrawal of the Marines.

Suspended

Even neutral Sweden questioned the necessity of sending U.S. military forces into Lebanon. Ambassador Gunnar V. Jarring suggested that the activities of the U.N. observer group be suspended while the Marines are there.

He said Sweden believes presence of the Marines makes it impossible for the observers to carry out their duties of preventing outside aid from reaching Lebanese rebels.

Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev read out in the council an official Kremlin statement urging removal of the Marines, and warning that the Soviet Union reserved freedom of action in an area deemed vital to Soviet security.

Lodge promptly made this reply:

"We would like nothing better than to withdraw, as I have said many times, and the resolution which we have introduced and which is now pending offers us a constructive way for us to do so."

But prospects for quick U.N. action on the U.S. proposal was running into increasing opposition.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold appeared cool to the whole idea, and some neutral nations were taking a similar view. There appeared to be no desire to take the issue speedily before a special General Assembly of 81 nations. This would have to be done in order to bypass the Soviet veto in the council.

Health Official Is Held As Pictures Of Nudes Found

Santa Barbara, Calif. (AP) — An official of the County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. was accused Wednesday of secretly photographing socially prominent matrons while they undressed for checkups.

Officers said the photographs were taken through a one-way mirror by Hank Harader, executive secretary of the association.

Boxes of photographs of women nude to the waist were found in the association's building.

Officers said Harader, 43, married and the father of 3, took the photographs over a 8 month period. He was booked on suspicion of sex perversion.

An 18-year-old secretary reported to police that Harader tried to take nude pictures of her.

Iraq Military Leaders Urge People Back To Work

Baghdad, Iraq (AP) — The military leaders in Iraq's revolutionary cabinet appealed to the people to return to work after the excitement in the overthrow of King Faisal and his government.

Life appeared to be back to normal in this capital city of 364,000 except that banks were closed by government order. The order said the closing is temporary.

Brig. Abdel Karim Kassem, premier in the new republic, called for the return to work so the new government could labor for the country's welfare.

Streets Jammed

Beirut (UPI) — A cavalcade of U.S. Marines in trucks, tanks, jeeps and amphibious armored cars clattered 5 miles from the landing beaches to downtown Beirut through streets jammed with curious and sometimes cheering Lebanese.

The operation went off without a hitch and without a shot being fired.

As the American fighting men took control of the city, a second force of 1,800 men were landed from 13 transports on the same beach where 1,700 came ashore. The scene was an open-air circus with thousands lining the shore to watch the Yanks land.

The Americans rolled along the city's waterfront to the dock area in long columns. Sweat broke through their dark green fatigue uniforms in the 90-degree heat. They wore camouflaged helmets, kept their rifles out of sight and waved back to the crowds.

Shuttered

Their line of march took them by the swank Hotel St George, its yacht basin studded with small boats decorated with girls suntanning in bikinis, then through the town's small nightclub district, now shuttered and quiet, but familiar to some of the Marines from past liberty calls.

Babbling youngsters tagged along after each contingent and some Marines handed out C-rations to the children. When they halted, other Marines won friends by sharing their water canteens with by-standers.

The principal parts of the city are under Marine control. One detachment, including a tank and armored carrier, was sent to the personal residence of U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock for his safety and that of President Camille Chamoun whose palace is nearby.

Arrangements for the procession into the city from the staging area at the Beirut Airport just inshore from the landing beaches were made at a meeting on the airport road between Adm. James L. (Lord Jim) Holloway, commander in chief of the Lebanese Army.

Pan Am To Start Daily Jet Flights

New York (AP)—Pan American World Airways announced Wednesday it will put jet airliners into daily service this fall between New York and London and Paris—and the first customers to ride them will include people who have been waiting since 1955.

The airline said it already has hundreds of reservation requests for the 1st jet flights, some dating from the 1955 announcement that the craft would be purchased. It said the jets will fly to London and Paris in 6½ to 7 hours, halving the time of present planes.

Alert Ordered

Cairo (UPI) — Damascus Radio announced that the Syrian minister of the interior had ordered all private cars to stay off streets and highways until further notice.

The Syrian broadcast, heard here, ordered all men and women in the Home Guard to stay on the alert and rush to their stations as soon as they hear air raid sirens.

Diamond Mines Open

Monrovia (AP)— Liberia is letting miners back in the diamond fields it closed last year. Each operator is limited to 20 workmen so the mines will not drain plantations of labor.

Demonstrate

New Delhi (AP)—About 35 members of the Bolshevik party of India demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy in New Delhi shouting for the withdrawal of American troops from Lebanon. Police cordoned the premises and the demonstrators dispersed.

U.S. Doubts Soviet Will Hazard War

. . . To Counter Lebanon Intervention

By Stewart Hensley

Washington (UPI)—American officials and congressional leaders said they did not believe Russia would risk general war in the middle East to counter American intervention in Lebanon.

They voiced this view despite a Soviet warning that Russia "reserves for itself the right to take the necessary measures to protect peace and security."

The White House said the Soviet note, demanding that U.S. Marines get out of Lebanon "at once," had not yet reached here. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed the 1,000 word message to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow.

The State Department declined specific comment on the implied threat of armed Russian intervention in the Middle East. But department spokesman Lincoln White said, "I am sure the Soviet propaganda pumps are out full blast."

Herter Tells Of Rumors

Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter was asked about the matter after he gave the House Foreign Affairs Committee a closed-door briefing on the Lebanese situation.

"There have been rumors that they would send volunteers, others have predicted they would send troops," he said. "I'd rather not comment."

Acting committee Chairman Thomas S. Morgan (D-Pa) dismissed the Soviet threat as propaganda.

"I don't think they're ready for a major war," he said.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a critic of the President's action, agreed with Morgan. He said he did not believe the Russians are ready "to engage in a conflict that would blow the world to pieces."

He said he believed the "cunning" Soviet leaders were "just waiting for us to make enough mistakes so they can pick it up (the world) piece by piece."

HUNDREDS HOMELESS IN KANSAS

. . . After Cloudburst

United Press International

Chest-deep flood waters roared into Fort Scott suburbs and sent 700 persons fleeing from their homes.

A series of cloudbursts from the Great Plains to the Alleghanies started more flash floods rolling. Thousands of farm acres were under water in Missouri, volunteers shored up levees in Illinois, and a state of emergency was declared at Sharon, Pa.

Emergency Plan

A pre-determined emergency plan, carried out with cool precision by national guardsmen, prevented the Fort Scott floods from taking any lives.

The Marmaton River and Buck Run Creek swept out of their banks following an 8-hour, 7-inch rain. The flood waters swirled into 200 homes and businesses and forced practically everyone living in the Belltown region to flee.

Water rose more than eight feet deep in some places.

Value Attacked

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI)—Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev, attacking the value of Lebanon border reports presented by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, told the Security Council:

"Ambassador Lodge and the United States government are entitled to justify their action by this type of so-called facts which are collated by their intelligence sources or by a thing we call in the Soviet Union 'O-W-A-W'—" 'one woman told another woman.' "

AIR DEFENSE STEPS UP ITS READINESS

Ottawa, Canada (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker told the House of Commons the Canada-U.S. North American Air Defense Command has been ordered into an increased state of readiness.

Diefenbaker said the step would have been taken if the Canadian squadrons had been under Canadian control alone rather than joint U.S.-Canadian control. Canada has 9 air defense squadrons assigned to the Norad command at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Diefenbaker said the move "not intended in any way to be an alarmist or provocative nature and is not to be interpreted as such." The increased state of readiness involved having more planes ready to take off on short notice.

Macmillan Sees Grave Dangers–

Chiefs Of Staff Are Summoned

... Into Emergency Meeting

London (Thursday) (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan called Britain's military chiefs of staff and the 3 armed services ministers into an emergency meeting at midnight Wednesday.

Unexpected news from the Middle East is believed to have prompted the special gathering of cabinet men.

Macmillan

Macmillan earlier had told the House of Commons the Mideast crises hold grave dangers for Britain and the world. He also sent Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Defense Chief Sir William Dickson to Washington to confer with Secretary of State Dulles and others.

Stormy Debate

The ministers and service chiefs were summoned by special messengers. They assembled in the prime minister's room at the House of Commons shortly after the British leader had wound up a stormy parliamentary debate on the Iraq situation.

"Whatever course future events may take, there are grave dangers for this country, and indeed for many others, especially in Europe," Macmillan said in winding up a debate on the Mideast.

"Our international position, the nature of our economy and our dependence upon our allies are such that we have to face up to these external events."

The prime minister said Britain has evidence of subversion and foreign intervention against the Lebanese government. He told a hushed house:

Calls It False Picture

"It has been said that the situation in Lebanon is simply an internal matter and that the Western powers have been trying to bolster up an obsolete, unpopular and undemocratic regime. I think really that is a false picture.

"There has been, and it cannot seriously be disputed, subversion and foreign intervention and a whole campaign organized outside on a large scale."

Labor Party Leader Hugh Gaitskell had said the opposition was apprehensive about the U.S. Marines' Beirut landings. Gaitskell warned that Labor might withhold support from any decision to send forces into Jordan or Lebanon.

Lloyd was reported to be carrying word that Britain will land forces in Jordan if and when King Hussein requests military help for Jordan.

Paratroops Massed

Nicosia, Cyprus (UPI) — British paratroops massed at Nicosia Airport Wednesday night to await a possible flight to the Middle East trouble zone.

The paratroopers were at least a battalion strong.

Fifteen British troop-carrying aircraft were due to arrive at the airport here at half-hour intervals.

Other transports arrived at Nicosia earlier.

DeGaulle: "Wait And See"

Paris (UPI)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle conferred urgently with his military chiefs while another French warship sailed for the eastern Mediterranean to join French naval units off the coast of Lebanon.

De Gaulle's announced policy was one of "wait and see," but he was reported ready to send French troops into Lebanon if necessary to back up the U.S. Marines there. However, it was understood France would act only if Britain does too.

Mail Vehicle Contract Awarded

Cushman Motor Works, Inc., of Lincoln, Wednesday was awarded a $1,407,287 contract by the General Services Administration for the production of 1,778 3-wheel mail delivery vehicles, similar to the one shown above.

King Faisal Shot Dead First Day Of Uprising

Tehran, Iran (UPI)—King Faisal of Iraq was shot dead the first day of the uprising by an officer who broke into the royal palace with a band of rebel soldiers, the Iranian ambassador in Baghdad reported Wednesday.

Faisal's uncle, crown Prince Abdul Illah, reached for his pistol in a holster, but was shot down by the same officer before he could fire, the official report said.

King Faisal

It was the first authoritative word on Faisal's fate. The ambassador said word of the death of the 23-year-old ruler was not made public by the rebels because of his great popularity with the common people of Iraq.

The rebel regime had announced on Baghdad Radio the slaying of Abdul Illah, who had ruled Iraq until Feisal reached the age of 18, and of Nuri Es-Said, Iraq's strongman premier.

A radio report from Baghdad Wednesday said that at least 200 persons had been killed in the assault on the royal palace and on the offices of Nuri Es-Said and other officials.

News came in a radio-telephone conversation between the meteorologist at the Baghdad weather station and the Teheran meteorological station.

The Baghdad informant said the insurgents appear to control only a small area of the city.

Most of the Baghdad casualthe wealthy class. Many homes were burned.

Passports Curb Asked

. . . By State Dept.

Washington (AP) — The State Department said Wednesday Congress could deal Communism a serious blow by arming the department with authority to prohibit Red agents and couriers from getting U.S. passports.

The department argument was presented to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Robert D. Murphy, deputy undersecretary of state, who was called away before he could finish answering questions.

Murphy testified the department is now powerless to stop Communist agents from traveling out of the United States, because of a Supreme Court decision June 16.

The court held that Congress had not authorized the State Department to withhold passports from Communists or others because of their beliefs or associations.

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, denounced the State Department request for authority to withhold passports. Morse said:

"I have never in 13 years in the Senate been so deeply moved as by the inexcusable attack on constitutional guarantees that is contained in the adminisration bill."

IRAQ HAS LONG HISTORY AS A TROUBLED REGION

By Arthur Edson

Washington (AP)—So there's trouble in Iraq, and so there always has been, all the way back to Eve, who harkened to the serpent.

For here, according to tradition, was the Garden of Eden. And though archeologists haven't uncovered the garden yet, they have found silt layers showing there was a flood like the one described in Genesis.

The word Iraq, unfortunately, stirs few historical memories. You have to go back to the names it once was known by: Mesopotamia, Babylon, Assyria (in the north) and Chaldea (in the south).

It's In The Bible

Anyone who has read the Bible is familiar with some of Iraq's past.

Here Abraham was born. Here Nebuchadnezzar built one of the 7 wonders of the world, the Hanging Gardens, all because his bride was homesick for Media.

Here was old Ninevah; "Woe to the bloody city," Nahum said. And here Belshazzar got his comeuppance from Cyrus. Although no one can prove it, it is believed that Shadrach, Meshach and Abendego got tossed into the fiery furnace at a spot not too far from the western border, near what is now Iran.

Late In History

But all this is moderately late in this land's amazing history.

Not too far from modern Mosul are the remains of the world's oldest known village. More than 7,000 years ago man—or his females—got fed up with hunting and fishing and settled down to agriculture.

Seventeen hundred years before Euclid, youngsters around Baghdad were learning about the hypotenuse of a right triangle.

This is the land of the Arabian Nights. This is the land of Sinbad the Sailor, who had his port on the Persian gulf.

Guest Has Career Of Interest

An interesting hostess with an interesting guest is the perfect combination—and we find it in Mrs. Howard S. Wilson and Miss Ruth Dane of Washington D.C.

Miss Dane arrived by plane Tuesday afternoon to spend a week or more with an old friend—Mrs. Wilson, and both guest and hostess are exceedingly well known in their own fields—research analysis for Miss Dane and, of course, the writing of books and short stories for Mrs. Wilson.

We find, however, that although by profession Miss Dane has won laurels as a research analyst, she has a far more intriguing title than that—She is an Intelligence specialist with the Air Force, a position she has held for several years.

News Of This, That And Those

—we've just completed a fascinating trek around the town—the meandering was strictly on the verbal side, of course, but it proved to be most satisfactory — and fun.

—for instance—Have you ever heard of the Long Shot Investment Club? There is one, and it's a supper club. The group meets once each month, and annually it has an outing which takes them to South Bend and the Howard Cathers' summer cabin. Such an expedition is planned for the last Sunday in July.

The club, as we understand it, was organized six or seven years ago and since its complete story is somewhat involved we won't go in to it this morning, but we will tell you that the membership includes Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schmadeke, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Marshall, Dr. and Mrs. Duane M. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. George (Bus) Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carper, and Mr. and Mrs. Van Ashmun.

* * *

—apropos of supper clubs and one thing and another—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. James Critchfield are keeping their fingers crossed and hoping for a balmy Saturday evening. They have a patio party planned for the members of their supper club—No rain checks will be given—If the weather is inclement, the supper will be indoors.

* * *

—interesting incentives for a party earlier this week were Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Bedell of Washington, D.C., who, as you already know, are just back from the south Pacific—

Anyway, on Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Walton C. Ferris and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Teale were hosts and hostesses informally at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris, complimenting Dr. and Mrs. Bedell. The guest list included the members of a bridge club to which Mrs. Bedell belonged while residing in Lincoln—and their families.

* * *

—and since we already have mentioned the Ferris family we'll tell you that Mrs. Ferris will leave early next week for the family summer home at Pelican Lake, Minn. She will be accompanied by Mrs. James Boyd and her daughter, Miss Judy Boyd who will be the guests of Mrs. Ferris during her two weeks stay at the lake.

* * *

—also on the vacation list this morning are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnston and their daughter, Jackie, who will leave on Saturday for their summer cottage near Crivitz, Wis. The threesome will be accompanied by Miss Judy Beck who will be Miss Jackie's house guest during the two weeks holiday.

* * *

—today, so we are told is Mday for Dr. and Mrs. Richard Wieland (Lynn Holland) who are moving in to their new home at 2115 Stockwell. Dr. Wieland, who recently completed his tour of duty with the Navy, arrived in Lincoln from San Diego late last week.

—checked the calendar to see what was what this week end and found that Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson will preside at dinner at their home on Friday evening when they honor Miss Ann Stebbins and her fiance, Frank C. Sidles.

Dear Abby . . .

Next to Godliness

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am turning to you for advice rather than seek help from someone who knows me because I am too embarrassed. In the 13 months that I am married my husband has not bathed or showered six times. He has NEVER washed his hair. He's a college graduate and has a good job with chances for advancement. We get along fine except for this one point and I wonder if you could tell me how I can convince him that cleanliness IS important. DISGUSTED

DEAR DIGUSTED: You can catch more flies with honey than you can with vinegar. Sweet-talk him, bribe him and use all the tricks women have been famous for for a thousand years—but don't let him put his head on your pillow until he has bathed.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I would have killed my husband last night if I only had a gun. I took a part-time job two years ago to help out with the expenses and I enjoyed it so much I kept on full-time. My income pays for lots of extra, but he isn't pleased and never was. He keeps saying he is the head of the house and we should be able to live on what he makes. Last night after I told him I wouldn't quit my job he went to the phone and called up my boss (at his house, mind you) and quit my job for me. Now what do you think of that?

RAVING MAD

DEAR RAVING: I rather admire your husband's spunk but he could have let YOU quit your own job. Most families would be happier if they lived on what the husband earned and let the wife stay home and be a home-maker.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a big woman (360 lbs.) and my husband is very skinny (130). I have tried several times, even with the help of an M.D., to lose weight but I can't seem to do it. My husband and his mother (who lives with us) instead of helping me lose, coax me to eat and drink everything I shouldn't. They eat everything and tell me to go ahead and enjoy myself and eat, too. I am always hungry and with them coaxing me all the time I just can't say no. What shall I do?

CAN'T LOSE

DEAR CAN'T: There's no sense in going to an M.D. and then ignoring his advice. Listen to HIM and ignore your husband and mother-in-law instead. It takes Will Power to stick to a diet, but it's worth it to look better, feel better and live longer.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my husband. We've been married six years and we're happy except for one thing. You see, my husband is the quiet type. He never talks to me unless I start the conversation. He never expresses an opinion, but always agrees with me. If he doesn't feel well, I have to force it out of him. Anything I say is just fine and anywhere I want to go he is glad to take me, but he never has any ideas of his own. I love him very much and I'm sure he loves me. I wish I knew how to make him take over for awhile. BOBBI

DEAR BOBBI: THIS is a problem? Some women don't know when they're well off. Appreciate his angelic disposition and pray he never changes.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

The Star In Suburbia

We heard by way of the grapevine that the moving van has been seen quite frequently in the Eastborough area which means we must devote a considerable amount of this morning's news to the newcomers. And during our verbal trek through Park Valley Heights we will focus our attention on the various summer activities of this week.

EASTBOROUGH

We'll begin by introducing Capt. and Mrs. William Stringfellow and their three children, Mark Steven, aged 6, Robin Kent, aged 4, and Dona Kelly, who is 1½. The family moved into their suburb home at 530 Northborough Lane the first of July folowing a trip from Sicily, where Capt. Stringfellow was stationed with the Air Force.

And new to the suburb — although very much acquainted with Lincoln circles — are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Berggren and their son, Richard, who recently moved from 1912 North Cotner to 309 West Rio Rd. The Bergrens, who hail from Rhode Island, settled in Lincoln last January.

Mention of the threesome reminds us that they soon will be entertaining a house guest who is Mrs. Berggren's mother, Mrs. Oscar Carlson of Cranston, R.I.

Popular residents in Eastborough for the summer are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Olson and their three children, Karen, Susan and Gordon, whose home is in Norman, Okla. The Olsons arrived in the neighborhood early in June and will remain for the summer while Dr. Olson is teaching at the University of Nebraska summer session. How ever, the Olsons have family members and many friends in the state as Dr. Olson is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University and received his Masters Degree at the University of Nebraska.

Another family to be accounted for this morning is the Stephenson fivesome who are new — as of three weeks ago — at 815 Northborough Lane. Their former Lincoln home was located at 6710 Fremont St., in the Cotner Terrace suburb. The members of the family include Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stephenson, Karen, Dana and Kathy.

While chatting with Mrs. Stephenson we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt, Jr., and their children, Mike, Brad and Terrie Jo of McCook will be motoring to Lincoln this week end to spend two weeks with the family. Mrs. Schmidt, who will be remembered as the former Ann Lynch, and her family also will be visiting Mr. Schmidt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt.

In addition to the new residents, July also is popular with visitors and vacationists. Among the guests in the suburb the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nesbit of Knox, Ind., who were en route home after a trip to California. Mr. and Mrs. Nesbit were in town for a brief stay at the home of Mrs. Nesbit's son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. Don Shilling and their daughters, Donna and Mary.

And home again on Saturday were Capt. and Mrs. Bob Robinson and their six youngsters who have been vacationing with family members in southern Missouri. During their trip, the Robinsons enjoyed fishing and swimming at a cabin in the Ozarks.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

Understand that Mrs. John Dell, Jr., was hostess at her home on Wednesday afternoon when a number of her neighbors were invited for coffee. Included among the guests were Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Stanley King, Mrs. Don Aksamit, Mrs. Larry Busch, Mrs. Marion Mendlik, Mrs. Kenneth Darby and Mrs. Clayton Otto.

Back home again following a recent four-day vacation are Mr. and Mrs. Robert White and their daughters, Linda and Kathy, who drove to Lyons, Kan., to visit Mrs. White's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Wurm and their children, Nancy and Sharon.

OWC Board

At a meeting of the newly-elected board of the LAFB Officers Wives Club on Tuesday, the members completed appointments of the organization's committee chairmen.

Named club parliamentarian was Mrs. Charles E. Dean, and new chairman will include Mrs. M. R. Moon, social chairman; Mrs. T. G. Pauza, program; Mrs. W. E. Miller, reservations; Mrs. H. F. Arnold, games; and Mrs. Arthur Handel, welcome chairman.

Mrs. J. J. Phillips will be in charge of public relations, and other chairmen are Mrs. James Jelley, welfare; Mrs. J. B. Myers, sports; Mrs. Glen Van Zee, Red Cross, Mrs. Eugene Frye, nursery; Mrs. Ralph Dowell, Thrift Shop; Mrs. V. A. Collins, ways and means; and Mrs. Paul Ecelbarger, Toastmistress.

LAFB Coffee

Officers wives of the Lincoln Air Force Base 345th bomb squadron will meet Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock for an informal coffee. The coffee will be held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Rodbro, 2043 Sewell.

Open House

In observance of his 90th birthday anniversary the family of Charles E. Stone will welcome friends on Saturday, July 19, at an open house between the hours of 3 o'clock and 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stone, 3127 S St.

We Hear That

Word has been received in Lincoln of the birth of a daughter, Kelli Dineen, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krull of Cedar Rapids, Ia., on Saturday, July 12.

Mrs. Krull will be remembered as the former Dee Finigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Finigan of Lincoln. The baby's parental grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krull of Sprague.

Mr. and Mrs. Krull only recently moved from Lincoln to make their home in Cedar Rapids where their new address is 361 30th St. Dr., Southeast.

Must Restrict TV To Save Baseball--Ford Frick

Washington (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick told Congress Wednesday that unrestricted televising of big league baseball games will destroy the sport within 10 years.

Frick asked the Senate Antimonopoly Subcommittee to approve legislation that would give baseball legal sanction to curb TV-radio broadcasts.

Minor league teams, he said, can't stand the competition of major league television.

"Minor league towns are being wrecked," Frick testified. "We have got to be able to handle this problem, or within 10 years there will be no television problem because there will be no baseball."

In addition to local telecasts, major league games are now seen across the country every Saturday and Sunday on national hookups. Minor league cities where games are being played are supposed to be blacked out, but minor league officials contend this is ineffective.

Frick supported a House-passed bill to provide broad antitrust law exemptions for pro baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said the bill's exemptions are so sweeping baseball authorities should write down for Congress the specific practices they want sanctioned by law.

Sen. John A. Carroll (D-Colo) said baseball "Ought to clear its own linen" and accept reasonable restrictions without seeking a completely free hand.

"Being for baseball," Carroll commented, "is like being for mother love and against sin."

But he questioned whether Frick could do much policing if baseball were granted unrestricted rights under the antimonopoly statutes.

In reply to questions, Frick went into his forecast that the majors will expand first from 8 to 10 and then to 12-club leagues. Eventually, he said, they would compete in 6-team sections with interlocking schedules but with separate playoffs leading to the World Series.

Revenue from playoff games, he said, would help swell the players pension fund.

Baseball sat still for 50 years, Frick testified, adding "It no longer can sit tight."

Frick also said he thought some big league clubs "have gone completely haywire" in handing out huge bonuses to sign up promising youngsters. He estimated the majors have paid out from 3 to 4 million dollars this year for boys just out of high school or college.

O'Mahoney wanted to know why baseball didn't abolish bonuses and use the money to enlarge the present $500,000 fund set up to rescue failing minor league teams.

Frick said bonuses of $100,000 and more apiece could be curtailed by reinstating a rule compelling clubs to keep bonus players on their own rosters for 2 years before farming them out. Also he said, they could make any player subject to draft by a major league team after 1 year in the minors. Frick called this a "rather socialistic" method.

The unrestricted draft of top minor leaguers now affects only players with 4 years' experience.

The 2-year provision for bonus babies was dropped last year. Clubs now may send their young prospects to the minors for seasoning at any time.

Frick said Congress should legislate to guard against a reversal of Supreme Court rulings that baseball is immune to the antitrust laws.

The court has held that other pro sports enjoy no such freedom. Frick said each sport needs the question settled once and for all.

O'Mahoney asked whether Frick thought Washington fans could depend on the baseball senators remaining in the Capital. The possibility of shifting the team arose last week but other American League club owners spiked the idea.

Calvin Griffith, president of the Senators, told the subcommittee Tuesday he intends to stay in Washington but would not lock the door tight on a future move.

Frick pounded the witness table and told O'Mahoney: "Removal of the club from Washington would be catastrophic. Baseball cannot afford not to be in the nation's capital."

Frick said experience with the Pacific Coast League convinced him that no existing league could move as a group into major status. The PCL, before the Dodgers and Giants invaded its territory, had been given a special classification to set the basis for possible conversion into a third major league. Frick said too many of its 8 cities lacked the needed population or facilities.

Frick also said that to grab the top 8 minor league cities to form a 3rd major league would ruin several minor leagues.

He recommended a gradual increase, with citizens of the city desiring a franchise putting up the necessary capital.

Open Champ Bolt Put On Probation

Havertown, Pa. (AP)—The revamped Professional Golfers' Assn. Championship starts a 4-day, 72-hole run today with main interest riveted on the complex man of moods, Tommy Bolt.

Bolt learned Wednesday that he would be eligible for the tourney after the PGA's executive committee decided his most recent offenses did not warrant suspension and instead placed him on indefinite probation.

Tommy, already on a year's probation since last Dec. 30, was reprimanded for picking up in 2 recent tournaments and, according to officials, for making uncomplimentary remarks to certain sponsors. He has agreed to apologize for the remarks. The committee also upheld a $500 fine imposed earlier by tournament officials.

The sport's celebrated "Peck's Bad Boy" checked in at the Llanerch Country Club intent on becoming the first player since Ben Hogan in 1948 to win both the National Open and PGA titles in a single year.

"I feel strong as a bull," the dour, jet-jawed Open champion said as he shucked a lavender sport coat and set out on his 1st tour of the sporty, par 70 layout which will be the target of 166 tournament and club pros over the weekend.

Except for the absence of Ben Hogan, the field matches that of the recent Open in strength and quality. The list includes 9 PGA title winners and 5 National Open champions besides Bolt, plus the amazing 56-year-old Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N.Y., who won them both back in 1922. Sarazen is just home from a remarkable showing in the British Open at St. Anne's.

All the young and tough tournament pros are lined up with the masters and there is the usual heavy collection of club teachers—more than 100 of them—eager to impress the home folks with a victory over the big time stars.

This has become more difficult with the shift of this 42-year-old fixture from a match play elmination to the normal 72-hole stroke play competition used in the Open and on the tours.

"Certainly this is the better test of golf," said Lionel Hebert, the pudgy defending champion who won at match play last year.

Optimists Beaten By Columbus

Lincoln Star Special

Columbus — Columbus pushed over an unearned run in the bottom of the 7th here Wednesday night to hand the Lincoln Optimists their 1st loss in 14 games this season, 3-2.

The home crew got its winning run on a walk, a stolen base and an Optimist overthrow on a play at 1st base with none out in the 7th.

Don Burt, Optimist lefty, was charged with the loss, his 1st against 3 victories. Burt doled out 8 walks and was in continual trouble, although the Capital City infield baled him out twice in the late innings with bases-loaded double plays.

Bob Gettman doubled, moved up on an infield out and scored on a wild pitch to put Lincoln ahead 1-0 in the top of the 1st, but Con Keating's single after a walk and a stolen base by Tom Henggeler tied it up in the bottom of the same frame.

The Optimists went ahead again 2-1 in the 3rd, but Columbus tied the count in the 5th to set the stage for the victory.

Tom Ernst hurled 4-hit ball for the Columbus victory.

Defending champion Earl Buchholz of St. Louis breezed in with an easy victory over Robert Tracy of Hinsdale, Ill. to appear headed for a 2nd straight tourney title.

TWO CHIEFS ARE AILING

Two Lincoln Chiefs, who travelled with the team Wednesday to open a swing through the western half of the Western League in Albuquerque tonight, are on the injured list.

They are first baseman Jerry Stack, who has an injured muscle in the right leg, and catcher Marcos Cobos, who has a stomach ailment.

Star Sports Staff Writer

I'm getting anxious. Do you realize it's less than 6 weeks until the high school football teams start practice?

The date is August 25. First games may be played on September 12.

It's not that I dislike baseball. But about this time of year, I begin to get a little bored with it. I have always thought the baseball season was too long. I'm interested for awhile at the beginning of the season, and again along toward the end when the races are being decided. But it's a long time in between.

Football, basketball and track seasons generally seem short. I think that's because they begin to reach their climax just at the time they would begin to seem long.

At any rate, I'm ready for the high school sports season to become active again. I am, foolishly enough, looking forward to a 2nd season of rating the top 10 teams.

Looking back on my 1st season as a prep rater, I hope that a year's experience and the resultant familiarity will make it easier next year.

This might also be a good opportunity to pass out a few accolades we've been intending to mention for some time.

There is a group of about a dozen key newspapers scattered around the state with sports sections which cover the area thoroughly.

The men on these newspapers do a mighty fine job. Without them, our job of following and covering the entire state would be impossible. Our thanks to these state sports editors.

Our thanks also to the majority of the coaches for their fine cooperation.

Prep track items gleaned from the Track and Field News:

Dyrol Burleson of Cottage Grove, Ore., whose 4:13.2 mile was accepted as a high school record, ran an even faster mile shortly after graduation in the national AAU meet. He finished back in the pack in the heat won by Australia's Herb Elliott in 4:01.4, but beat some of the nation's best with his 4:12.2 clocking.

Dallas Long, the North Phoenix, Ariz., shot putter who set the record of 69-3⅛ for the 12-pound shot this year, and also bettered 60 feet with the 16-pounder, will attend the University of Southern California.

Long wants to study dentistry, and SC had a good recruiting argument. In addition to its track reputation, SC also has one of the best dentistry schools in the west.

While we were at SC, that dentistry school was one of the toughest to get into, with a long waiting list. I wonder if Long had any trouble being accepted.

Three prep stars were ranked in the top 10 in their events in the final News listing. In addition to Long with his 61½ effort, ranked No. 2 behind Parry O'Brien, there are a pair of high jumpers. They are Paul Stuber of Bellflower, Calif., ranked 4th with a 6-9 jump, and John Thomas of Rindge Tech in Massachusetts, ranked 8th on a 6-8¼ best mark.

Some others, 440 man Dave Mills of Ohio, for instance, are not in the rankings because they did not compete against the top men in the nation.

The rankings are not simply a listing of top marks in order, but a rating on basis of season performance.

Lumpe Homers, NY Whips Tigers, 3-2

New York (AP)—Jerry Lumpe's 2-on, 2-out home run in the 4th inning brought the New York Yankees from behind for a 3-2 victory over Detroit Wednesday night. Bob Turley allowed the Tigers only 3 hits while winning his 14th in a strikeout duel with Jim Bunning, who had won 5 in a row.

Lumpe, who had 3 of the Yankees' 8 hits off Bunning and reliever Bill Fischer, swatted his 2nd homer of the season, and 2nd in the majors, after a walk to Mickey Mantle and the 1st of Norm Siebern's 2 singles.

Bosox Explosion Drops A's, 5-2

Boston (AP)—The Boston Red Sox, held to a lone hit for 5 innings by veteran Murray Dickson, exploded for 4 runs in the 6th Wednesday night for a 5-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Jackie Jensen, Boston's slugging outfielder, capped the uprising with a long double to right center scoring the 3rd and 4th runs.

Right-hander Ike Delock, the converted relief specialist, was credited with his 9th straight victory without a setback although he gave way for a pinch hitter in the 6th.

Milwaukee Home Runs Drop Cards

St. Louis (AP)—A pair of 1-run homers by Hank Aaron and Ed Mathews in the 5th inning gave the league-leading Milwaukee Braves a 6-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night. Mathews' homer, his 2nd of the night, tied the score, and Aaron's provided the winning margin.

Warren Spahn, lifted after yielding 11 hits and loading the bases in the 8th, was credited with his 11th victory of the season against 6 losses. It was the 50th triumph of his career against St. Louis. The Cards have beaten him 27 times.

Final Title Bout Barrier Is Cleared

San Francisco (AP) — California's Athletic Commission Wednesday cleared final barriers to a heavyweight boxing title bout in Los Angeles on Aug. 18 between champion Floyd Patterson and Roy Harris of Cut And Shoot, Tex.

Commissioners voiced approval of neophyte promoter Bill Rosensohn after the former pay-TV executive declared Al Weill was out of the picture and "Will not get one nickel from me."

Weill, who piloted former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, applied for a license to promote the Patterson-Harris fight but the commission turned it down June 24. Wednesday it suspended his manager's license also.

Mike Carver collected a double and single for the only blows off Kelley, who got the only run he needed in the 2nd when Lawlor's scored on a walk, stolen base, infield out and a passed ball.

Australia Protests U.S. Colleges Recruiting Stars

Melbourne (AP) — Australian sports officials sought Wednesday to end recruiting by American universities of Australian sports stars.

They protested to the International Amateur Athletic Federation (IAAF) which in turn called on the United States Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) to answer the charges.

Edgar S. Tanner, secretary of the Australian Olympic Federation, said he was alarmed by reports that approaches had been made by Villanova to Herb Elliott and by Houston to Albert Thomas, 2 young Australians.

Elliott has the 2nd fastest time ever in the mile, 3:57.8, and Thomas recently lowered the 3 mile record to 13:10.8.

In New York, Dan Ferris, honorary secretary - treasurer of the AAU, said he had referred the IAAF inquiry to Walter N. Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"We are confident that the rules and regulations of the NCAA and its various allied conferences fully satisfy the amateur requirements of the several international sports federations and the United States and international Olympic organizations," Byers declared at his office in Kansas City.

Among the prominent Australian athletes who have starred at American colleges are the late John Marshall, Yale's great swimmer; Kevin Gosper and David Lean, middle distance runners at Michigan State; Murray Rose ,winner of three Olympic Gold Medals in swimming who has completed his freshman year at Southern California; and Jim Bailey, a 3:58.6 miler at the University of Oregon.

Tanner said the "poaching" would be discussed at the IAAF Congress meeting in Stockholm in August with a view to putting strong proposals before the next meeting of the International Olympic Committee.

"Personally, I consider those responsible in the approaches to Australian athletes are aiding and abetting disguised professionalism," Tanner declared.

"I know of no senior Australian official who views these scholarships with approval. The final decision on these matters is a matter for the international sporting associations, and I am at a loss why they have not yet acted on this matter.

Senators Claim Enough Support For Trade Bill

Washington (UPI) — Senate leaders of both parties, spurred by the Mideast crisis, claimed enough support to override their own Finance Committee and give President Eisenhower the reciprocal trade bill he wants.

As Senate debate opened on the House-passed measure, Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) predicted an "effective" bill would be passed without a committee-approved amendment to sharply curtail the President's tariff-cutting powers. Johnson disclosed he has taken personal charge of the fight to eliminate the amendment.

Republican leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said the outlook was "very favorable" for killing the amendment, which was sponsored by Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla).

Won't Press

Knowland said the administration would not press for other Senate amendments to strike objectionable provisions written in by the Finance Committee. Instead, he said, it would seek to modify the provisions in a House-Senate conference committee.

The House bill, passed overwhelmingly on June 11, would give Eisenhower almost everything he requested, including a 5-year extension of the reciprocal trade program. The Senate Finance Committee chopped this to 3 years.

Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa), a Finance Committee member, said he believed the Senate would go along with the 3-year provision. But he said the administration hoped a conference committee would compromise on a 4-year extension.

Meanwhile, the first administration supporters to speak in the Senate debate renounced the committee bill as a "sham" which would "weaken the defenses" of the free world. They foresaw increased defense and foreign aid needs if the trade program was trimmd.

State OKs Jobless Aid Plan

Can't Help Where Match Funds Used

Nebraska will participate in a program to provide temporary unemployment insurance payments to unemployed Korean War veterans and unemployed federal workers who exhausted their benefits under their original entitlement after June 30, 1957, the Nebraska State Labor Department announced.

The state will not, however, be able to participate in the extended temporary benefits to the unemployed outside of these 2 categories due to the state's limitation of $100,000 on indebtedness.

Under the terms of the extended benefits for unemployed as recently passed by Congress, the federal government would loan to the state funds for additional benefits to be granted the unemployed.

All Federal

The temporary benefits granted Korean War veterans and unemployed former federal workers will be borne completely by the federal government, however, with no state funds involved. The Nebraska Labor Department's Employment Security Division will serve as the disbursing agency.

Under terms of the agreement to be signed by the Nebraska Labor Department and the U.S. Department of Labor, the unemployed in these 2 categories may qualify for as much as an additional 10 weeks of jobless benefit payments after Aug. 17, 1958.

It is estimated that up to $130,000 may be distributed in temporary unemployment benefits to eligible Korean War veterans and up to $60,000 to eligible ex-employes of the federal government.

43 Calls To Adams In 6 Months-

Goldfine Still Mum On Some Matters

Washington (AP)—Bernard Goldfine Wednesday acknowledged telephoning Sherman Adams—"a friend you call whenever you see fit"—43 times in 6 months.

But the wealthy Boston industrialist continued mum on some matters, despite more warnings of possible contempt action from a special House investigating subcommittee.

Goldfine, in the witness chair for the 7th and supposedly next-to-last time, described as correct a record of 43 long distance calls he placed to Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1 aide. The record showed the calls were made to the White House, Adams' private number and, on one occasion, to Minneapolis when Adams was traveling.

Averaged 2 A Week

The record covered the period from Nov. 20, 1957 to May 11, 1958, and thus amounted to almost 2 calls weekly on an average.

"I consider Gov. Adams one of my best friends," Goldfine said. "A friend you call whenever you see fit . . . and he does the same to you."

While the subcommittee neared the end of its marathon questioning of Adams' gift-giving friend—and presumably approached a decision on a contempt citation—the House itself exploded into a new row over the investigators' tactics.

The immediate issue was a bitter protest by Rep. Perkins Bass (R-NH) against the mention by subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of a name identical with Bass' in connection with a company Harris said was a party in a case of apparent political string-pulling. Bass said he had nothing to do with any such thing and that Harris should have done him the courtesy of checking before mentioning his name.

1.5 Mill Levy Hike Seen In City Budget

. . . July 28 Eyed

The City Council probably will begin considering the 1958 budget about July 28 and early indications point to at least a 1.5 mill increase in the current tax levy of 14.80 mills.

Exact budget requests by the 54 city departments will not be disclosed until hearings start, but city officials anticipate most departments will ask for increases.

Among those seeking increases will be the police, park and recreation, fire and street repair departments.

Already committed or indicated in the new budget are items totaling $250,000. These include the new fire station and additional firemen, additional debt retirement, and additional police personnel under the 2-division plan.

Pen, Lincoln Jail Escapees Sought

Police are still seeking 2 escapees, one from the Nebraska State Penitentiary and the other from the Lincoln jail.

Dennis Charging, 22, walked away from a work detail at the prison Saturday. The former Alliance man was serving a 3-year term for auto theft.

Rayford V. Swart, 20, of 4525 Stockwell, was a trusty on a painting crew when he walked away Tuesday morning from the jail. Police were holding Swart in connection with a charge of driving on a suspended license.

4 States To Compete Here In Gladiolus

. . . July 20

Exhibitors from 4 states are expected to converge on Lincoln Sunday, July 20, for the annual gladiolus show. Sponsored by the Lincoln Gladiolus Society, the show will be held at the O'Shea Rogers Motor Co. showroom, 14th and M.

Competition in the single spike and 3 spike color classes will be divided into 3 divisions: novice, for those who have never entered a show or who grow and know glads only by color; and open and amateur, which are the larger groups. Blue, red and white ribbons will be awarded for those placing, while division champions will receive rosettes. Grand and reserve champions will be awarded pieces of silver.

Silver will also be awarded for the best seedling, the best recent introduction, best vase, basket, corsage and arrangement in both amateur and open classes.

Youth Included

Young people are also included in the show, with a special class for children up to 14 in which they may enter any kind of gladiolus spike, corsage, vase, basket or arrangement.

Last year, 2,000 people viewed the gladiolus show.

Entry deadline for floral exhibits is 10:30 a.m., when judging is scheduled to begin. The show will be open to the public, free of charge, at 1 p.m.

GOP Leaders Agree Deep Cuts In Foreign Aid Require Another Look

Washington (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders, faced with America's crumbling Middle East position, quickly agreed with President Eisenhower that deep cuts in his foreign aid program may have to be restored.

The GOP leaders left their weekly White House meeting with the President convinced that the death throes of pro-Western Iraq and the U.S. Marine landings in Lebanon required a new look at foreign aid appropriations.

Shortly after the meeting, Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter went to Capitol Hill to brief the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the rapidly-unfolding Middle East crisis.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif) said the President told the White House meeting that the Marine landings in Lebanon went "most satisfactorily." He said reaction in the United Nations and most countries was "generally favorable."

Knowland said the meeting discussed the effect of the Middle East situation on the foreign aid appropriation bill.

He said "it may be that additional amounts will be necessary" on account of the crisis, particularly in the contingency fund made available directly to the President for emergency use.

Knowland said he was thinking in terms of restoring cuts made by the House rather than trying to get the Senate to vote more than the administration originally asked.

The President originally sought $3,940,000,000 for the program. Congress responded by fixing an outside limit on the program of $3,675,000,000. In approving a bill to provide the actual cash, however, the House slashed the program to $3,078,000,000.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said he had felt all along that the Senate would pass an aid program "substantially satisfactory" to the President. He said he did not know what effect the new crisis would have.

Until the present emergency, it was believed the best the President could hope for was the restoration of about 300 million dollars in House cuts.

Johnson said Secretary of State Dulles was keeping him informed of Middle Eastern developments on a bipartisan basis and had telephoned him during the day. He said he had given "no thought" to what effect the crisis might have on hopes to adjourn Congress in mid-August.

Knowland said he believed that the President's intervention in Lebanon generally had the support of members of both parties in Congress.

Not Sugar

Fargo, N.D. (UPI) — Lloyd White, 30, was hospitalized suffering from insecticide poisoning. He ladled the insecticide on his cereal at his mother-in-law's home in the belief that it was sugar.

Russ Complain

New York (AP)—The Russian U.N. delegation complained to police that Bela Balazsi, 39, a Hungarian refugee, shouted obscenities at them while he picketed their Park Avenue headquarters.

In Manhattan Arrest Court on a charge of disorderly conduct, Balazsi said he learned the epithet from Soviet forces in Hungary 2 years ago.

Mahoney ordered a suspended sentence on Belazsi's promise not to repeat the obscenity.

California Pair Changes Check Pleas To Guilty

An Oakland, Calif., couple who earlier had entered innocent pleas to bad check charges have changed their pleas to guilty in Lancaster District Court.

Tom Berry, 28, pleaded to issuing a $55 insufficient-fund check Feb. 27 and his wife Juanita, 26, pleaded guilty to forging a $39.95 check on the same date. Judge Paul White deferred sentencing the pair pending an investigation by the Adult Probation Office.

A forgery charge against Berry was dismissed by the county attorney's office.

Police said the pair have admitted passing bad checks in 4 states and that they issued about $1,200 worth in Lincoln last winter.

Man Pleads Guilty To No-Account Check

Dwight Crouse of Rt. 2 pleaded guilty Wednesday in Lancaster District Court to issuing a no-account check.

Judge Paul White deferred sentencing pending an investigation by the Adult Probation Office. Crouse, 24, is charged with issuing a $20.75 no-account check last Dec. 31.

Frontier Airlines Space Requirements May Mean Airport Addition Here

Frontier Airlines, which is hoping to begin air service to and from Lincoln within 60 days, will probably need amounts of space at the Municipal Airport necessitating an addition to the city-owned structure, Frontier officials in Denver told The Star.

Present space should be sufficient to handle the new Omaha-Casper service via Lincoln and other Nebraska points, Edward H. Gerhardt, airlines public relations director said.

It is hoped that a contract with United Air Lines which now leases all available space at the airport can be worked out whereby UAL will handle ticket sales and reservations for Frontier on the Casper-Omaha route, Gerhardt said.

A UAL official in Lincoln said the arrangement "could probably be worked out." United now handles ticketing for Braniff Airways in Lincoln on a similar basis.

Addition Needed

An addition to the air terminal will probably be necessary when additional Frontier service to Lincoln, granted in 7-states hearings by the Civil Aeronautics Board in May, begins, possibly next January, Gerhardt said.

Mayor Bennett Martin said "the city has every intention to provide satisfactory space for new air service." He said architects would have to take "a brand new look" at the airport if building additions appear mandatory.

City Treasurer Theo H. Berg said the city's aviation fund, "made up of receipts from airport rental from United Air Lines and farmland leasing," amounts to $70,000.

He stressed, however, that money from the fund is not presently authorized for expansion expenditure.

Frontier will send an official, William Crismon, to Lincoln soon to study air facilities and possibly arrange a temporary contract agreement with UAL, Gerhardt said.

Some space at the airport will become available when Braniff suspends operations here as ordered by the CAB.

Frontier also faces a space problem at Omaha, Gerhardt said.

The airline has in the past "worked with the city" in building "inexpensive additions" to city-owned terminals at Salt Lake City in 1955 and Phoenix in 1950, the director pointed out.

Frontier operates its own station in all 40 cities it serves, airlines spokesmen pointed out.

Frontier plans to staff Lincoln with 10 to 12 employes when full service begins.

Seeks Wichita Flight

In addition to 7-states approved flights and the Omaha-Casper route, Frontier presently seeks an okay for flights to Wichita via Lincoln with Grand Island as a terminal point.

In May, Frontier was awarded a southern Nebraska route with stops at Sidney, North Platte, Imperial, McCook, Kearney, Hastings, Lincoln, Omaha; a central route stopping at Scottsbluff, Alliance, North Platte, Grand Island, Lincoln and Omaha, and an Omaha-Kansas City route stopping at Beatrice.

Service by the airline from Denver to Rapid City including stops at Scottsbluff, Alliance and Chadron was also granted.

State's 2nd Conservancy Organization Is Formed

. . . 25,000 Acres In Buckley Watershed

Fairbury, Neb. (AP) — The Buckley Creek Watershed Conservancy District, second such organization in the state, was formed at a meeting in the District 26 schoolhouse between Gladstone and Reynolds.

The district takes in 25,000 acres, 1,500 in Thayer County and the remainder in Jefferson County.

Soil conservation boards of the 2 counties set Aug. 21 for an election to choose a board of directors. The deadline for filing is July 24.

Petitions calling for formation of the district were signed by 240 of the 310 resident taxpayers in the district. The number was well over the required 60%.

Garland Platt of near Gladstone, chairman of the Jefferson County Soil Conservation District, presided at the meeting.

A conservancy district, provided for in recent Nebraska legislation, makes a watershed a government sub-division of a conservation district.

Omaha Janitor Bound Over On Murder Charge

Council Bluffs, Ia. (AP)—Larry D. Jackson, 36, admitted slayer of 18-year-old Joseph David Dixon of Omaha, was bound over to District Court Wednesday on a charge of murder.

Jackson, 36, is an Omaha apartment house janitor. He is a Negro.

On the advice of Pottawattamie County attorney Matt Walsh, Jackson pleaded innocent.

Municipal Judge Allan Ardell ordered Jackson held without bond until the next session of the Grand Jury in September.

Watson Sent On Mission To Guam

Hastings, Neb. — Former Hastings public schools Superintendent Raymond A. Watson, who since his retirement here a year ago has been with a government school for Indian boys in Arizona, will leave Aug. 1 for Guam which will be his headquarters for an educational survey.

The survey, which will require 3 months or more, will be undertaken on appointment by Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton.

Final Session Of Fremont's Hearing Held

Fremont, Neb. (AP) — The Fremont City Council concluded its public hearings in a probe of police action on a complaint of an elderly woman that she had been subjected to a rape attempt.

The third session drew less than a dozen spectators in comparison to overflow crowds at the first 2.

The case involves police action in not arresting John Hogan of Fremont. Hogan demanded that police produce a warrant. Police had none and County Attorney William G. Line said he told them none was needed inasmuch as the complaint involved a felony.

Conflicting Advice

But police said they had conflicting advice that a warrant was needed. The result was that Hogan was not arrested and has left Fremont. Line has said he will drop the charge because he would have to call Capt. William Burke as a witness and Burke would be a hostile witness.

The only witness at the final session was City Attorney E. L. Mahlin who said he was standing by a report he previously made to the council in the case. Mahlin said police were not entitled to arrest a man in his home without a warrant unless they had pursued the man into his home after witnessing a crime.

Mahlin told the council that under Fremont city rules the mayor is in charge of the police department but that the chief is more directly in charge.

Heavy Combine Migration To West Area

Combine migration continues to be heavy throughout western Nebraska and surpluses of 100 machines were reported Wednesday in the Grant area, the State Labor Department said.

The only combine shortage was in the vicinity of Hastings where 14 machines were needed. However if present migration continues, a large surplus of machines may develop within the next 48 hours.

Reports from individual localities included:

Alliance — Very little cutting has been done in this area. Weather is cloudy and damp, delaying start of harvest. With two days of ideal weather, cutting should be fully underway. Advance orders received for 20 machines needed when cutting can be started.

Hastings — Rain over the entire area has again delayed cutting. Combine shortage has eased in the past 24 hours. Additional combines are needed in the following areas: Clay Center, 6; Edgar, 6; Hastings, 2.

Lincoln — Wheat harvest in Lancaster, Saline and Seward Counties again under way and with continued dry weather should be completed by the end of the week. Oats are ready for combining.

McCook — Heavy migration of machines continues through ports of entry at McCook and Benkelman. 170 machines through the McCook port of entry Monday. Harvest 75% complete in Red Willow County, 75% complete in Benkelman area, 90% complete in southern half of Chase County and 50% complete in the north and west portions of Chase County. An adequate number of machines are in the area with many of the machines going to harvest fields further north and west.

North Platte — Surplus of 100 combines in the Grant area. Small surplus of men and machines in the Ogallala area. Harvest is 30 to 40 per cent completed in Grant area. Weather has been ideal for cutting in the Grant area.

Sidney — Temporary harvest offices have been opened in Chappell and Kimball. Harvest information also may be obtained at the employment office in Sidney and Dalton.

Combines are steadily arriving in the Chappell, Lodgepole, Sidney and Kimball areas. Normal migration is expected to take care of the needs for combines. Cutting was delayed in this area Tuesday morning because of cloudy, damp weather conditions. Cutting will be general throughout the area when weather permits.

20% Increase In Bond Sales Noted

Thrifty Nebraskans made it possible to show an increase of 20.08% in E and H Bond purchases over the corresponding half-year period of 1957. Total sales for the 6-month period just ended amounted to $52,909,471, which represents 64.5% of an $82 million dollar quota for 1958, according to W. B. Millard, Jr., state savings bond chairman.

In announcing this, he also stated that sales for June were $6,987,193, an increase of 14.85% over the same month a year ago.

With sales running ahead of last year and the fine crop outlook throughout the state, Nebraska could be well on its way to being one of the leading states in the nation at the end of 1958 in per capita and total sales, Millard said.

Iowa 'U' Turn Is Big Mistake For Nebraskan

Cedar Rapids, Ia. (UPI) — Robert Krayuse, 35, Omaha, should never have made that "U" turn here.

Police stopped him when he made the illegal turn and discovered he was driving a stolen car.

Federal charges were filed for interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

And Omaha authorities said they wanted to question him about some robberies in Omaha.

Fire Levels Bridgeport Sub-Station

Sidney, Neb. (AP)—The Bureau of Reclamation sub-station at Bridgeport was destroyed Wednesday when fire apparently caused by lightning destroyed the installation with a loss estimated at about $150,000.

Charles Ham, manager of the Wheat Belt Electric Membership Assn., Sidney, said about 2,300 customers were affected in the Sidney area alone and hundreds of others in the general area since the substation supplied power to the Chimney Rock Public Power District at Bayard, wheat belt and some customers in the Ogallala area.

He said Bureau of Reclamation arrangements made it possible to restore service to many customers during the night, but the town of Bridgeport was without electric power Wednesday morning.

M. E. Garber of the Gering Bureau of Reclamation office said no one was present when the fire started and it was not known whether it was a direct hit by lightning or whether lightning caused an overload and the resulting fire, but there appeared to be no question but lightning was at fault.

Oats Drill Box Survey Going On Display Sunday

Concord, Neb.—The Northeast Nebraska Experiment Station will hold a special open house Sunday from 1:30 to 5 p.m., for farmers and others to view results of the 1958 oats drill box survey.

Dale Flowerday, station superintendent, reports that due to weather conditions many folks were unable to view the plots at a regular field day held earlier in July.

'Near East Crisis More Reason For Ag Bill Passage'

Omaha (AP)—Elton Berck, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union, said that the Near East developments provide even more reason for speeding passage of the agricultural industrial bill before Congress.

Berck said any disruption of the flow of Near East oil would have a serious effect on production of synthetic rubber.

The Farmers Union has expressed interest in taking over the idle Omaha Alcohol Plant as a pilot operation aimed at eliminating farm surpluses by creating industrial markets for farm products.

During World War II alcohol produced at the plant was used for synthetic rubber production.

Berck said research aimed at eliminating surpluses through industrial utilization is the only way to make the nation's productive capacity a double asset in war and an asset in peace.

U.S. Sewage Aid Funds To 11 Cities

Pollution Council Allocates $242,858; Asks Applications

By Betty Person

The State Water Pollution Control Council Wednesday approved allocation of $242,858 in federal funds to 11 Nebraska communities for construction of sewage disposal plants, and extended until Oct. 15 the deadline for receiving applications for 1959 fiscal funds.

Cities approved Wednesday for receipt of the federal funds anticipated for this fiscal year are: Ralston, Table Rock, North Loup, Arapahoe, Plainview, Beaver City, Wilber, Omaha (for District 31), Monroe, Hallam and Elkhorn.

Noting that Nebraska expects to receive a total of $685,000 in federal allocations for 1959 to provide 30% matching funds for the various communities planning disposal plants, the Council said it would have a balance of $442,141 after the 11 communities approved receive their share.

On this basis, the Council approved a plan to accept applications beyond the deadline which had been set for July 15.

Accept Others

Council members authorized T. A. Filipi, sanitation division chief of the State Health Department, to accept and process immediately applications from other communities which are now polluting streams.

Communities which are not now polluting streams, but which apply for federal money to build disposal plants, will have to wait until the Council meets again Oct. 17 to be given a priority for any funds remaining.

The total construction cost and 30% federal share of the 11 approved projects is:

Ralston, $276,000—$82,800.
Table Rock, $28,311—$8,493.
North Loup, $10,026—$3,008.
Arapahoe, $55,957—$16,787.
Plainview, $48,400—$14,520.
Beaver City, $32,450—$9,735.
Wilber, $76,463—$22,938.
Omaha, District 31, $180,500—$54,150.
Monroe, $25,000—$6,435.
Hallam, $14,339—$4,302.
Elkhorn, $65,632—$19,690.

Morrison State Trip Extended

Nebraska's Democratic senatorial candidate, Frank Morrison, is extending his 1st campaign through the state by 6 days following requests from Nebraskans for Morrison county chairmen in the northern part of the state.

The 53-year-old Lincoln attorney originally had planned a 10-day trip through the state ending at the Harvest Festival at Abie July 20.

Morrison has added a full day of campaigning and an appearance at Chadron State Teachers College July 21.

During the 2nd part of the junket, the one-time congressional candidate from the 1st District will visit these Nebraska communities:

July 22: Hay Springs, Rushville, Gordon, Merriman, Cody, Nenzel, Kilgore, Crookston, Valentine, Wood Lake, Johnstown and Ainsworth.
July 23: Bassett, Stuart, Atkinson, Emmett, O'Neill, Inman, Stafford, Orchard, Rayol, Plainview, Pierce and Wayne.

He will continue his visit at Wayne July 24 as well as visiting the Old Settlers Picnic at Winside, and will move into Columbus July 25 for a speaking engagement at the Chamber of Commerce.

From there Morrison will travel to Grand Island for the Democratic candidates' meeting scheduled July 26.

Group To Build Structure For Local Meetings

The Lancaster Building Corp., formed to buy land and build a structure suitable for meeting purposes in Lincoln, filed non-profit with stock articles of incorporation with the secretary of state.

The corporation, noting the lack of facilities here for educational, youth, fraternal, charitable and other meeting purposes, will likely build in an other than downtown location, one stock-holder said. It will rent space for meetings, he pointed out.

An authorized capitalization of $50,000, consisting of 50,000 shares at one dollar per share, was listed by the incorporators: A. L. Cumming, Russell Ryne, William A. Worrell, Kenneth D. Price, George Schleiger Jr., Dwight M. Crewdson, Richard W. Bender, Jimmy Rosenberry, Walter R. Jones, John W. Moser, Albert Schleiger, Dale Chapman and T. J. Fraizer, all of Lincoln, and Edward Vantine of Waverly.

The incorporators have no specific site now in mind.

Statehood Issue Election Date Set

Juneau, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans will vote Aug. 26 on whether the northern territory is to become the 49th state.

On the same date they will nominate candidates for the first election under statehood, which was set for Nov. 25.

Gov. Mike Steopvich announced the dates. In the referendum required by the statehood act, Alaskans must agree to immediate statehood, approve state boundaries and accept other provisions of the congressional act.

Rejection of any one of the 3 propositions would void statehood. Stepovich has said approval is certain.

Rail Commission Appeal Filed By Indiana Firm

Morgan Drive Away, Inc., Elkhart, Ind., has filed with the State Supreme Court a transcript of an appeal from a State Railway Commission decision granting a Scottsbluff firm authority to haul trailers throughout Nebraska.

The commission on May 28 granted Wallace C. Walker, doing business as the Modern Body Shop, Scottsbluff, authority to haul new and used trailers throughout the state in intra-state commerce.

The commission later overruled the request for a new hearing filed by the Indiana firm, which hauls trailers in inter-state commerce, that is, throughout the nation.

The commission said the Indiana firm alleged in its petition for a new hearing that it failed to receive notice of the original hearing and was therefore denied an opportunity of protesting Walker's application.

The award is presented yearly to sophomores displaying ability, promise of success and in need of financial aid. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Burcham of RFD 3, Lincoln.

Businessmen Hopeful After Talks With WE

Lincoln businessmen conferred with Grey Jewett, assistant plant superintendent, Wednesday on the announced "probable" shutdown of Western Electric's Lincoln plant within the next 12 months.

The closed door session at the Chamber of Commerce revealed no new facts that were not contained in the Western Electric announcement earlier, according to Archie Bailey, Chamber of Commerce general manager.

Chamber President Harold F. Hoppe said the Chamber will "keep in touch with Western Electric" and take whatever action possible to encourage continued operation in Lincoln.

Optimism Urged

He also advised that the announcement of a "probable shutdown is not equivalent to a definite shutdown and said the city "should maintain an optimistic view" as long as Western Electric continues to operate.

Noting the WE shutdown of its satellite plants a Decaur, Ill., and Indianapolis, Ind., Bailey said he Lincoln plant has this much in its favor:

"If new orders should develop within the near future, the Lincoln operation would porbably be continued."

"It adds up to this," Bailey said. "As long as we're alive, we're not dead."

'Leaves It Open'

R. W. Rustermeier Jr., president of the Communications Workers Of America local union, said he felt the closing announcement "also leaves it open for Western Electric to change their minds completely and keep the plant open."

However, Jewett emphasized that "Western Electric at no time considered its Lincoln operation permanent

New York officials of Western Electric's parent—American Telephone and Telegraph Co.—said there was no defense production work at the Lincoln shop, and that the firm expects no contracts for defense work adaptable to the Lincoln facility.

Present at the meeting were members of the Chamber of Commerce business expansion committee, the Lincoln Industrial Development Corp., and Mayor Bennett Martin.

Man Is Held For Slaying Iowa Cop

Davenport, Ia. (AP) — An Iowa ex-convict was charged with first degree murder in the slaying early Wednesday of a Davenport detective who sought to arrest him for abducting a Rock Island, Ill. night club entertainer.

Detective William H. Jurgens, 47, was shot twice in the head as he drove to the scene where a fellow policeman had stopped a car in which Laverne L. Zahringer, 29, Davenport, had driven 27-year-old Marilyn Sullivan from nearby Rock Island.

Zaehringer was held to District Court without bond on the murder charge. He was released last August from the Iowa prison at Fort Madison where he had been serving a 10-year term for robbery with aggravation.

Through Windshield

Jurgens, father of 2 daughters, was widely known for his Santa Claus role at Christmas parties for orphans here. He died when 2 shots were fired through the windshield of his unmarked squad car.

Police Chief Ray Schieser said Zaehringer's car had been stopped by Patrolman Ernst Lester after word of the 2 a.m. abduction of Miss Sullivan had been broadcast.

Miss Sullivan said later that Zaehringer forced her into his car at knife point. She was accosted when she walked to a parking lot after her evening's work as organist in the Hotel Armstrong cocktail lounge.

'Nebraskans Are Concerned About World Situation'

North Platte, Neb.—In his swing around the state on his campaign as Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, Frank Morrison said he has found all Nebraskans concerned about the grave international situation.

"All American people are united in their hopes and prayers that the President will be successful in his efforts to establish peace and stability in the Middle East."

The 53-year-old Lincoln attorney said he also has found Nebraskans are "concerned in his tour of the state that Morrison declared.

with the growing antagonism and misunderstanding of America throughout the world in spite of the fact that we've spent billions of dollars on foreign aid."

Morrison said he personally feels that military strength alone "can never insure stability in a free world," but that it must be coupled with "an adequate program initiated by the food-exporting nations to meet the food needs of a world, five-sixths of which is hungry."

The Democratic candidate declared, "We need more effective leadership in the Congress from the agricultural midwest to bring food exports into their proper prospective."

He said he regarded it has "tragic" that in recent years "our wheat exports have fallen off, and that we have shipped adulterated wheat into the world market."

NO POLIO, 2 RABIES CASES DURING WEEK

The State Health Dept. reported there have been no polio cases and 2 animal rabies cases reported in Nebraska durnig the past week.

Eight polio cases have been registered with the department so far this year as compared with 35 at the same time last year. Rabies cases are also down with 13 reported so far this year, with 22 reported at this time last year.

One of the animal rabies cases involved a Lincoln boy, Leonard George, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neville George of 4603 Bancroft. The youngster was bitten by a rabid squirrel when trying to free it from his dog. According to his father, Leonard is getting along "fine" and will complete the 14 preventive inoculations on Monday of next week.

The other rabies case involved a cat in Winside.

Red China Also Urges Marines To Quit Lebanon

Berlin (AP)—Red China joined the Soviet Union in urging immediate withdrawal of American troops from Lebanon.

A Peking government statement warned that the United States "will harvest the fruit of their own actions" unless the "forces of aggression" are withdrawn at once.

The statement was quoted by ADN, the official East German news agency.

The statement is claimed the United States now is preparing to invade in Jordan.

The Soviet Tass agency reported Red China announced recognition of the new revolutionary regime in Iraq.

NATIVE NEBRASKAN AIDS DETAINED U.S. CREWMEN

William E. Thomas, former Nebraska YMCA boys work secretary and former assistant Work Progress Administration recreation supervisor for the state, is helping 9 U.S. Army helicopter crewmen detained in East Germany to maintain contact with the western world.

Thomas, a native Nebraskan and currently field director for the Red Cross in Berlin, makes regular trips into East Berlin with Red Cross food parcels and letters from the famlies of the servicemen, according to Red Cross officials here.

A graduate of Peru State Teachers College, Thomas became YMCA boys work secretary in 1931, and was named assistant WPA recreation supervisor in 1940.

He has been with the Red Cross since the beginning of World War II, serving posts in Korea and Greenland, as well as in the U.S.

Thomas, who lived at Lincoln and Omaha while with the YMCA, holds the distinction of having served the longest stint of any Red Cross worker during the Korean War, according to Red Cross officials in Lincoln.

After graduation from Peru Thomas taught high school at Bancroft, Neb., for several years. He is married to a former Bellwood, Neb., girl.

Plan Would 'Save' State Nat'l Guard

...Henninger Says

Washington (AP) — Maj. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, Nebraska adjutant general, said a plan proposed by the Adjutants General Assn. would continue the National Guard in Nebraska at its level of last June 30.

The association came up with its proposal at a conference here. It was offered as a substitute for an Army proposal to trim the National Guard from 400,000 to 360,000.

Henninger told reporters the association plan would save the National Guard in his state. The Army plan, he said, would eliminate 700 guardsmen in Nebraska and National Guard units in 9 Nebraska towns.

The adjutants general plan would continue National Guard strength at 400,000, maintain all present infantry and armored divisions on an equal basis and would maintain all anti aircraft units at 84% for immediate readiness.

Henninger was one of a group of visitors attending the regular weekly breakfast of the Nebraska congressional delegation.

Another visitor was Tom Pansing, who heads a Chamber of Commerce committee concerned with possible removal of the Veterans Administration regional office from Lincoln to Omaha.

Winds Hampering Grasshopper Spraying Work

Chappell, Neb. (AP)—Strong, gusty winds in Cheyenne and Deuel Counties have hampered grasshopper spraying activity since planes arrived to start the work, it was reported by Don Woolman, Deuel County agent.

Four planes were launched early Saturday morning, only to see operations halted a few hours later by the wind. About 1,200 of the 40,000 acres were covered before the planes were forced down.

Planes were back in the air Wednesday.

Planes spray at the rate of 15 gallons per minute, Woolman said, and since the poison is applied at the rate of a gallon to the acre the planes spray about 15 acres a minute. They carry 150 gallons of the chemical and stay up about 10 minutes.

Four planes are presently based at Chappell airport, and 2 more arrived Wednesday, Woolman said. Mixture used to fight the insects contains aldrin at the rate of 2 ounces to the acre in one gallon of diesel fuel, it was reported.

Currently, grasshoppers are infested at the rate of some 27 per square yard in the area being treated, Woolman reported.

'A Mistake'

Indianapolis,Ind. (UPI) — Vance Hartke, Democratic candidate for senator from Indiana, said the sending of American troops to Lebanon was "a mistake—an unfortunate thing."

Hartke's Republican rival for the Senate, Gov. Harold Handley, took a similar stand.

Posse Nabs Father After 3 Tots Slain

Towanda, Pa. (AP) — Two members of a posse followed a horse's trail Wednesday until they came upon and captured a young father who state police later said confessed shooting to death his 3 young daughters.

Paul Pelton, 19, of nearby Troy, was captured by a state policeman and a farmhand as he lay resting in a wooded area 4 miles from his farm home. He was armed with 3 rifles, a hatchet and a knife but offered no resistance.

State Police Cpl. Joseph Teldan said Pelton signed a statement in which he told of putting the children to bed, then watching a television mystery show. After a while, the statement continued, Pelton considered for 20 minutes whether to shoot the children.

He got up, loaded a rifle, and fired once at each of the tots.

Hide Out

He then got on a horse and headed for a mountainous area where he had decided to hide out.

Teldan said Pelton gave no clue as to his motivation, saying, "I don't know why."

Pelton was described by his wife as a devoted husband and father. Teldan described him as a man of good reputation.

The bodies of the children were found by Pelton's wife, Margaret, 23, when she returned from the Troy Community Hospital after visiting their other child, Paul, 5 months old and critically ill from asthma.

Dead was the child's twin sister, Pauline; Connie, 2, and Patricia, 3.

Vinson Orders Probe Of Adams Part In Contract

Washington (UPI) — Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee ordered investigators Wednesday to find out whether Sherman Adams helped a New England firm get a $41,284 refund on an Army textile contract.

Vinson told United Press International he had assigned his special investigation subcommittee, headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La), to make a "thorough study and inquiry" into the case allegedly involving Adams, President Eisenhower's chief aide.

The case was turned up by chairman Oren Harris' (D-Ark) House Influence-Investigating subcommittee which turned it over to the Armed Services group.

At the same time, Rep. Perkins Bass (R-NH) took the House floor and angrily denounced Harris for "character assassination" by mentioning Bass' name in connection with Raylaine Worsted, Inc., which received the controversial refund.

Other Republicans joined Bass in accusing Harris of "guilt by implication," "smear" and "McCarthyism." The entire GOP side of the House rose twice to applaud Bass.

Filing Charges Urged By Jury

Bridgeport, Neb. (AP)—A coroner's jury Wednesday recommended that a motor vehicle homicide charge be filed against Dale G. Owens of Bridgeport in a Monday night traffic death which took 2 lives.

Adin Schleicher, 39, and his 11-year-old son, Keith, of Bridgeport were killed in the crash.

Owens is in a Bridgeport hospital recovering from accident injuries.

County Attorney Robert Bulger said late Wednesday he had not yet filed charges against Owens.

Thunderstorms are expected in the north and central Plains, central Rockies and northern Great Basin. Cooler weather is slated for the northeast and coastal areas of the north Pacific states. Warmer temperatures are expected in the Lakes region, upper and central Mississippi Valley and eastern portion of the northern Plains. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Hog Diseases Plague Richardson Pig Lots

Falls City, Neb. (AP)—Veterinarians report that hog diseases of all kinds are on the increase in Richardson County.

One veterinarian said that he has looked at more sick and ailing hogs in the last month than he had in the previous 6 months. He is unable to account for the sudden upturn.

Space Bill Okayed; Sent To President

Washington (UPI) — The House and Senate Wednesday gave rocket-swift approval to a compromise bill to set up a powerful new civilian agency to command this country's long range drive to overtake the Soviet Union in the conquest of space.

The Senate sent the bill to the White House by voice vote within hours after the House, without debate, shouted its approval of the legislation, which was recommended by President Eisenhower. The President will have step-by-step control over the activities of the new agency.

It provides for creation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and a 9-member advisory council headed by the President.

Under the bill, the President would resolve any conflicts arising between the new space agency and the Pentagon's advanced research projects agency which handles missiles and other space-age weapons research.

'Cost Of Flood Could Have Built Lots Of Terraces'

The estimated $200,000 flood damage to bridges and roads in Lancaster County recently would have paid for 1,082 miles of terraces to help retard runoff waters.

University of Nebraska Extension Conservationist Harold H. Gilman based his statement on calculations that terraces cost 3½ cents per linear foot or $184.80 per mile.

Terraces constructed on farmland in county watersheds would not have been a cure-all in handling the destructive deluge, Gilman stated. "However they represent a sound conservation practice, which, if integrated with other soil and water conservation techniques, would go far toward lessening the effects of a destructive flood," he noted.

Around Clock

Washington (UPI) — The United States Information Agency announced it has started broadcasting news in English to the Middle East and Europe around the clock.

Director George V. Allen said the voice, starting every hour on the hour, will broadcast 15 minutes of news reports and 15 minutes of news analysis, recordings of statements by U.S. and U.N. officials and editorial comment.

4 More Are Set Free

. . . By Rebels

Guantanamo, Cuba (AP)—Four more American servicemen—scrubbed and clean-shaven this time—were flown back to freedom Wednesday after being held 20 days as hostages by Cuban rebels.

They joined 7 set free by the rebels the previous day, who in contrast had heavy beards. Eighteen American Marines and sailors still were in rebel hands in their mountain stronghold 40 miles northwest of this southeast Cuban American naval base.

U.S. Consul Park Wollam, who worked for weeks to arrange the prisoners' release, reported the rebels apparently intend to continue freeing captives in small batches, and the process might take from 4 days to a week.

The 4 men freed are:

Lawrence E. Jamison, 21, Bradford, Pa.
Angelo Mpazicos, 20, Bronx, N.Y.
Michael P. McArdle, 18, New York.
Hal C. Worral, 18, of Marysville, Ind.

Middle East Crisis Sends Grains Down

Chicago (AP) — The Middle East situation still was the dominant factor in grain futures dealings Wednesday but prices on the Board of Trade eased as demand slackened and commission houses dumped in selling orders.

The volume of trading was at a considerably slower pace than Tuesday when the first U.S. Marines landed in Lebanon. Some dealers expressed belief that a large amount of the open interest was cancelled out at that time by short-covering.

The amount of business in that session was about twice the normal volume in most of the pits. More than 54 million bushels of wheat were traded, about 16½ million bushels of corn and about 27½ million bushels of soybeans.

Wheat closed ¾-1⅛ cents a bushel lower, July $1.91-91¼; corn ¼-¾ lower, July $1.32¼-½; oats ¼-1 cent lower, July $1.26; soybeans 2 cents lower to ¾ higher, July $2.31¼-½; lard 15 cents a hundred pounds lower to 18 cents higher, July $12.55.

STOCKS FALTER; VOLUME HEAVY

New York (AP)—A strong stock market rise faltered as the international news worsened Wednesday but the list still managed a moderate advance on average.

Vigorous early trading and a pickup late in the day boosted volume to 3,240,000 shares, the biggest since 3,950,000 shares changed hands Jan. 16. It compared with 3,090,000 shares Tuesday.

A continued advance by oils, both international and domestic, was chilled by news that Russia had demanded the United States pull its Marines out of Lebanon. The oils converted plus to minus signs along a broad front and other issues reacted in sympathy.

The aircrafts paced a rise by steels, nonferrous metals and "war babies" generally as other issues unrelated to defense fared indifferently.

Five of the 15 most active stocks were aircrafts and four were oils.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 50 cents to $176.30 with the industrials up 80 cents, the rails up 40 cents to another new high for the year and the utilities unchanged.

Of 1,198 issues traded, 512 rose and 414 fell. There were 117 new highs and three new lows.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks rose, five fell and one was unchanged.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock exchange. Volume was 870,000 shares compared with 940,000 Tuesday.

Communist Capitals Condemn Landing Of Marines In Lebanon

London (AP) — Red China echoed Soviet urging for U.S. withdrawal from Lebanon.

The official radios of the 2 big Communist powers sounded new blasts at the landing of U.S. Marines in the Beirut area. Other Communist capitals, including Belgrade, condemned the U.S. move.

But in London Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told Parliament he had strong evidence that Lebanon's crisis was not a simple internal matter and he is sure the British people give moral support to the U.S. landings.

Macmillan voiced Britain's new expression of support after Laborite Hugh Gaitskell warned that Labor may oppose British reinforcements for Lebanon or Jordan.

Peiping Blast

In Moscow, the Foreign Ministry issued a statement calling for U.S. withdrawal and gave U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson a copy of the statement.

Peiping Radio added Red China's attack in this blast:

"In sudden rage and panic, the United States has brazenly launched armed intervention against Lebanon in the face of universal censure and also attempts to invade Jordan to menace the republic of Iraq. If the United States does not withdraw immediately from its agression in Lebanon, it will surely eat the fruit of its own doings."

Moscow Radio set the pace for the Soviet bloc. It said "a flame of hatred will sweep across the Arab lands and force the imperialists back into the sea whence they came."

Aggression

In an English language broadcast beamed to North America, Moscow Radio said the United States had started "an unprovoked aggression people to protect the oil interests of the Wall Street bosses and John Foster Dulles . . . The U.S. government is criminally foolish . The British government would do well to ponder on it before they commit the final, fatal error"

Similar attacks were voiced Poland and East Germany, all members of the Moscow bloc.

India's Prime Minister Nehru cut short a tour and returned to New Delhi because of Middle East developments. He said a wrong step in the Middle East by an outside power would lead to a conflagration and India's problem is "whether we will shut our eyes at this moment or do something."

New Clashes

Algiers (AP)—French officials said Algerian rebels operating from across the Tunisian frontier are again clashing with French troops.

A communique from the office of Gen. Raoul Salan, supreme commander in Algeria, reported that in order to relieve the French troops caught in the rebel fire to permit evacuation of the wounded "it was necessary to send in reinforcements and order in aviation."

Intelligence Specialist Visitor:

Satellite Work Hasn't Cut Russ Aircraft Development

By Walt Switzer

Russia hasn't ceased its search for improved aircraft even though its plans involving conventional aircraft have become obscured by that nation's rocket and satellite testing.

This point was made clear by an intelligence specialist, closely connected with Russian affairs, who is visiting in Lincoln.

Miss Ruth Dane of Washington D.C., who is visiting Mrs. Howard Wilson of 1230 Crestdale Rd., commented about the current Soviet air situation while telling of her experiences during 16 years of intelligence work with the armed services.

She said at the present time Russia is planning to devote one-third of its aircraft output during the next 5 years to transport type planes.

All Types

Aircraft capable of operating from all types of airstrips are being developed to make possible their use in small underdeveloped nations. The purpose of operating transports in the lesser nations is aimed mainly by the Russians at aiding in bringing them under Communist control, Miss Dane said.

She explained that Russia can also soon be expected to rival the West on the trunk routes of the world as that nation plans to put on the market within 2 years planes whose performance can rival that of any aircraft yet planned by the West.

The Soviet planes can be expected to be available at a highly competitive price, she noted, to make them attractive to other nations.

Miss Dane also told of aiding in the setting up of a program which would put about 350 commercial aircraft under Army control, manned by basically commercial crews, within 24 hours if it ever becomes necessary to use them.

Schoolmates

A graduate of the University of California, Miss Dane met Mrs. Wilson while they were both attending Pamona College, and has visited her here frequently.

The holder of a Master's Degree in international relations, she attended a political science school in Paris, France.

Listed as her favorite hobby is raising children. She has 2 adopted daughters: Deborah, who graduated from sity this spring and Diane, who will be a senior at Smith College this fall.

Dog Friend

Also prominent in her life is her Dalmation dog, Randy, of which she said, "He may soon be the only Dalmation with more scratches than spots, due to his continual fighting."

"I joined the Central Intelligence Agency for 6 months, just before WWI, under the prompting of a friend," Miss Dane said, "and have stayed in the field for 16 years."

Before beginning her work with the Air Force as an intelligence, she later worked studying changes in the balance of power among nations —for the Army, and in the policy mobilization area for the Air Force directorate of plans.

Hagerty Claims Adams Received Set Of Golf Clubs

Washington (AP)—The White House said Wednesday a man named Sam Goldstein—not to be confused with Bernard Goldfine—once gave a set of golf clubs to President Eisenhower's chief assistant, Sherman Adams.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty confirmed this when asked for comment on a report published by the Washington Star that a man named Goldstein had bought a set of matched clubs for Adams at the Burning Tree Club, where the President also plays.

Hagerty said Goldstein lives somewhere in New England but that he doesn't know what Goldstein's business is. He stressed, however, that he had found out it has "nothing to do with any business involving the government."

Goldstein, Hagerty said, is a long time personal friend of the Adams family.

In Springfield, Mass., the Springfield Union said the Goldstein referred to by Hagerty is Sam Goldstein, 74-year-old theater chain president.
